Winds of Change

In the cool, early, morning, several hot air balloons rose from a field near Etiwanda Avenue and Highland and drifted in the gentle breeze. Frequently, balloons could be seen drifting over Etiwanda High School, their movement and direction totally at the mercy of the changing wind. Those balloons were symbolic of the winds of change at Etiwanda High School.

The wind was an important part of the life of most EHS students as well. The well-known, violent winds which sometimes struck the school affected our lives in various ways. Mrs. Pat Noel, a science teacher related, "It's great when we're studying weather." However, some people didn't like the wind. Mrs. Ruth Smith, a counselor complained, "The wind is bad."

Change itself has been an important element at Etiwanda High School. The change was directed toward quality and improvement in many areas. It has never been allowed to "drift" as a balloon might. During our third year, Etiwanda has been affected in a very real way by the "Winds of Change."

The first students and faculty members of E.H.S. will never forget the familiar look of Chaffey High School.

DIS

Our First Year

In January 1983, Mr. Don Culp was chosen to be the principal of the new school, site 06. In February Mr. Miller was chosen as the Assistant Principal. In the spring of 1983, Mary Pollock was hired as the Activities Director. She then started a steering committee of students, by sending out flyers to see who was interested in helping out. Of the people who said they were interested, she and Mr. Culp picked chairpeople for the different committees such as mascot, colors, rings, and awards. These people, with their committees, sent out more ballots to see what the student body would like their school colors and mascot to be. The final result was the Eagles, with the colors, Red, Black, and Gold.

In the fall of 1983 the new school opened; however, it opened on another campus, Chaffey's. During the summer the steel workers went on strike so the new school wasn't ready. So, for the first semester plus a couple of weeks, Chaffey housed the Etiwanda School. While at Chaffey everyone felt the pressure of crowdedness caused by two schools sharing one campus, but it really seemed to work.

On February 27, 1984 we spent our first day at our school. We were finally the Eagles of Etiwanda High School.

Seniors, Anthony Hadrick, Donald Neilssien, and David Schrank, are glad school is out for the day.

How We've Changed

*E*tiwanda High School started traditions, and developed a place in the community. Opening in 1983, the main goal was to have an excellent instructional program. With each new development and phase of Etiwanda High School, not only have we attempted to achieve that goal, but we are there. Principal Don Culp noted, "The key to achieving that is to have an excellent teaching staff." Culp added "We really do have an excellent staff."

There have been many changes in different areas since the first days of Etiwanda High School, but one thing has stayed the same and it always will — the wind. Like it or not, it played an important role. Some people liked it, some didn't, but it was something everyone who was a part of our school had to live with. Proctor Yolanda Sanchez commented, "I don't mind the wind. It's just the dust that bothers me." According to senior Mike LeVesque, "We need more plants so the dust doesn't blow around as much, so you don't have dirt in your teeth." The landscape has continued to grow and improve providing a positive changing atmosphere.

ETIWANDA

The landscaping has improved the appearance of the school.

Growth was a major factor in the changes which took place. When the school first opened, there were approximately 850 students. We now have 1525. We started with three grades, having no seniors the first year. The 1986 seniors were the second graduating class. Also, we started out being on Chaffey High School's campus, but we survived until we had our own nest. Scheduling was done on computers during the summer of 1985, making it a lot easier on many people. The school has expanded to fit the needs of the students, staff, and community.

Pep Squad is bigger and more spirited than in former years resulting in increased student enthusiasm.

Changes in the Community

In 1977, with a population of 19,000 people, Rancho Cucamonga was incorporated as a city. It consisted of three small towns, Cucamonga, Alta Loma, and Etiwanda, which contained thirty-two square miles of undeveloped land. The city hall was housed in a small, one-room, building on Archibald Avenue.

In 1985, Rancho Cucamonga grew to 65,600 people and the city hall was located on Baseline. In the spring of 1986 there was a ground breaking for the new city hall on Haven and Civic Center Drive. The thirty-two square miles of undeveloped land that held the vineyards, that produced the wine, for which Cucamonga was famous, have nearly vanished.

The old historical winery has been torn down, leaving only the main tower. The tower has been restored with new additions which will house a proposed food park and six-screen theatre. Across the street from the winery, an industrial park featuring modernistic architecture has been built. Behind this is the Law and Justice building.

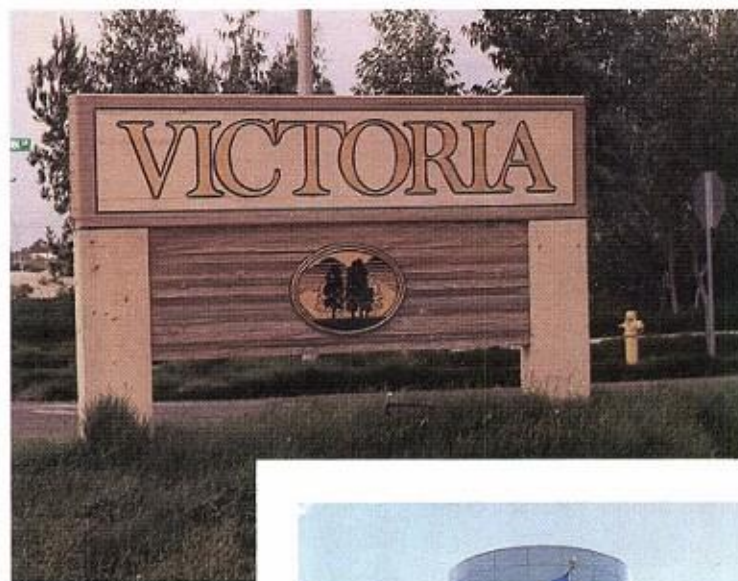

Many new housing tracts such as "Victoria," "Brock Homes," and "Stonegate," have been built. Restaurants, fast food places, and stores have also been constructed, including "Moskatels," "Del Taco," and "K-Mart." Many people from Los Angeles and Orange County moved here because it was "country." The schools have experienced major growth according to City Clerk, Beverley Authelet who noted, "The school overflow is caused by the growing community."

Thus, the movement of people into this community has begun a process of conversion from an undeveloped city into an industry-based, affluent community, with a still present but quickly vanishing country atmosphere that marks Etiwanda's "Winds of Change."

"Victoria" is one of the most populated new housing tracts in Etiwanda.

Many new high-class buildings have been built in Cucamonga.

Changes in the School

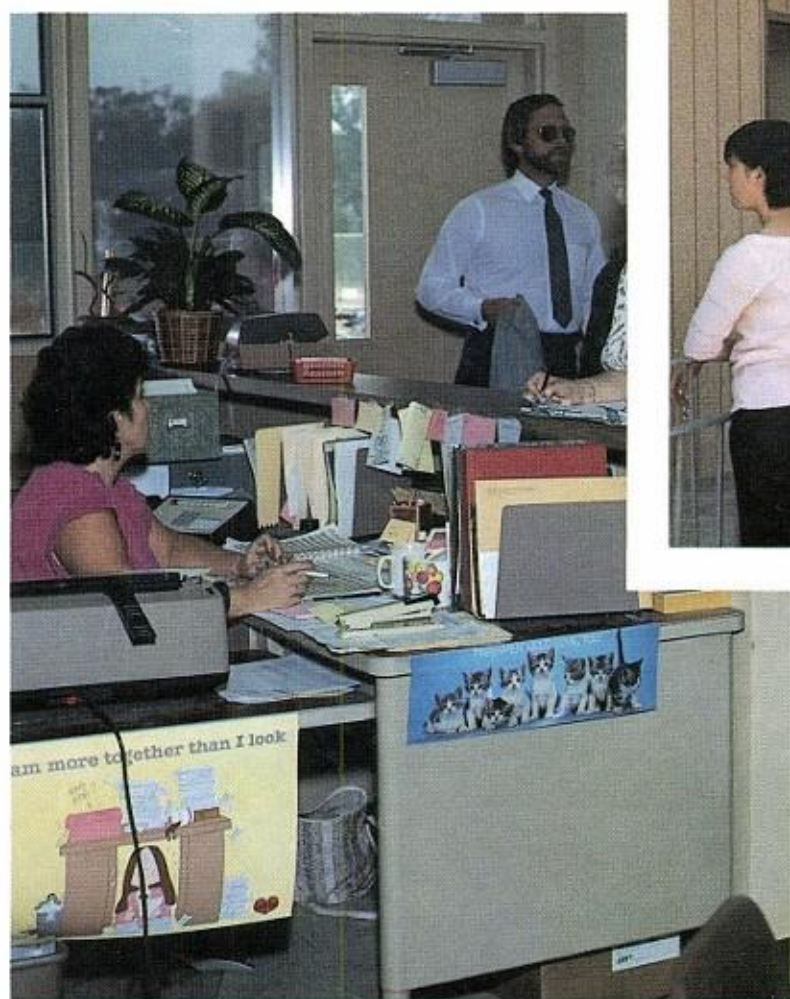

Etiwanda High School has undergone many physical changes since the original plan of the school. There has been the addition of the D building between the C building and the main gym, and more portables on the B building. The plan for the total campus has taken shape.

The new building which has been built with a stage and band room, was begun in the winter of 1985. The addition of this building made it possible for the enlargement of the guidance office in the A building.

Another major change which took place was the walkway from the student and visitor parking lots, to the quad area. This made the front of the school more attractive, and easier for students to enter the school.

The increase in students causes a lot of waiting and takes some getting used to.

The new arrangement in the guidance office makes it easier for the students and the staff.

Seniors, Ginny Wells and Sheila Vargas can hardly wait for their great lunch.

Changes in the Students and Staff

Among the many changes which took place at Etiwanda within the past three years, were changes in the students and staff. One would have noticed changes all around campus, but one of the most important, was the change which happened within the students and staff members.

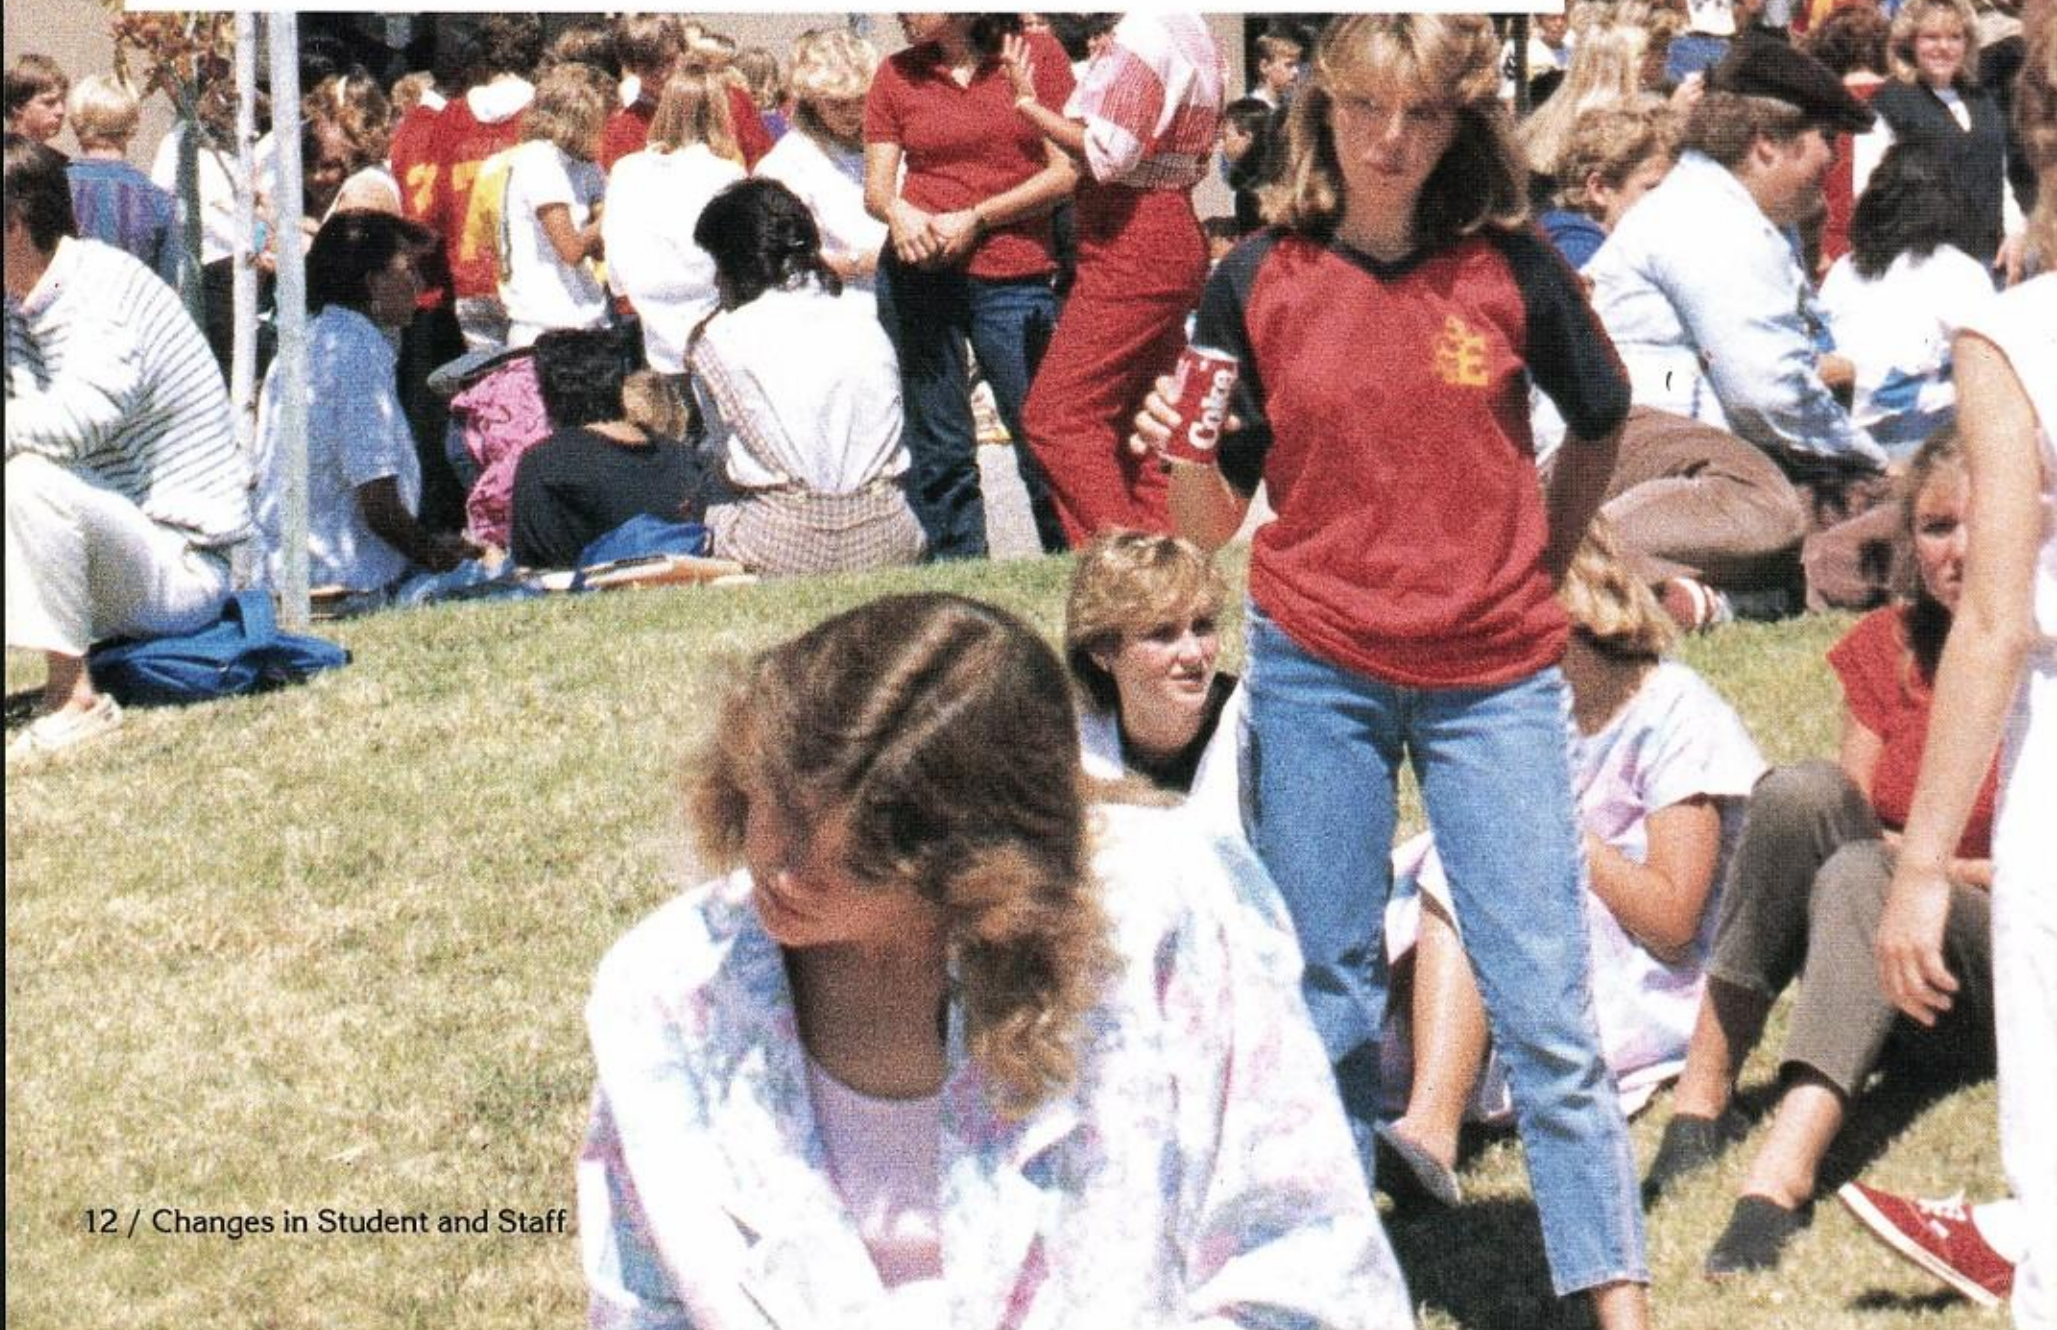

Our first year we had three counselors, Ruth Smith, Ron Scott, and Neen Patterson. In the 1985-86 year Mrs. Patterson was no longer with us. David Schroeder and Judy Post arrived as two new counselors.

Growth was the major factor which affected our school as a whole. The growth of the community brought many new students to join our family of Eagles. As a result it was obvious we needed more staff members. Beginning with thirty-two teachers we added twelve new teachers to our staff. Remi Tremblay also joined us during the second year as a third administrator.

With these new teachers, Etiwanda established a strong curriculum and an outstanding instructional program. The students have responded by becoming more willing to learn and cooperate. Etiwanda students scored at or near the top of standardized tests in the District.

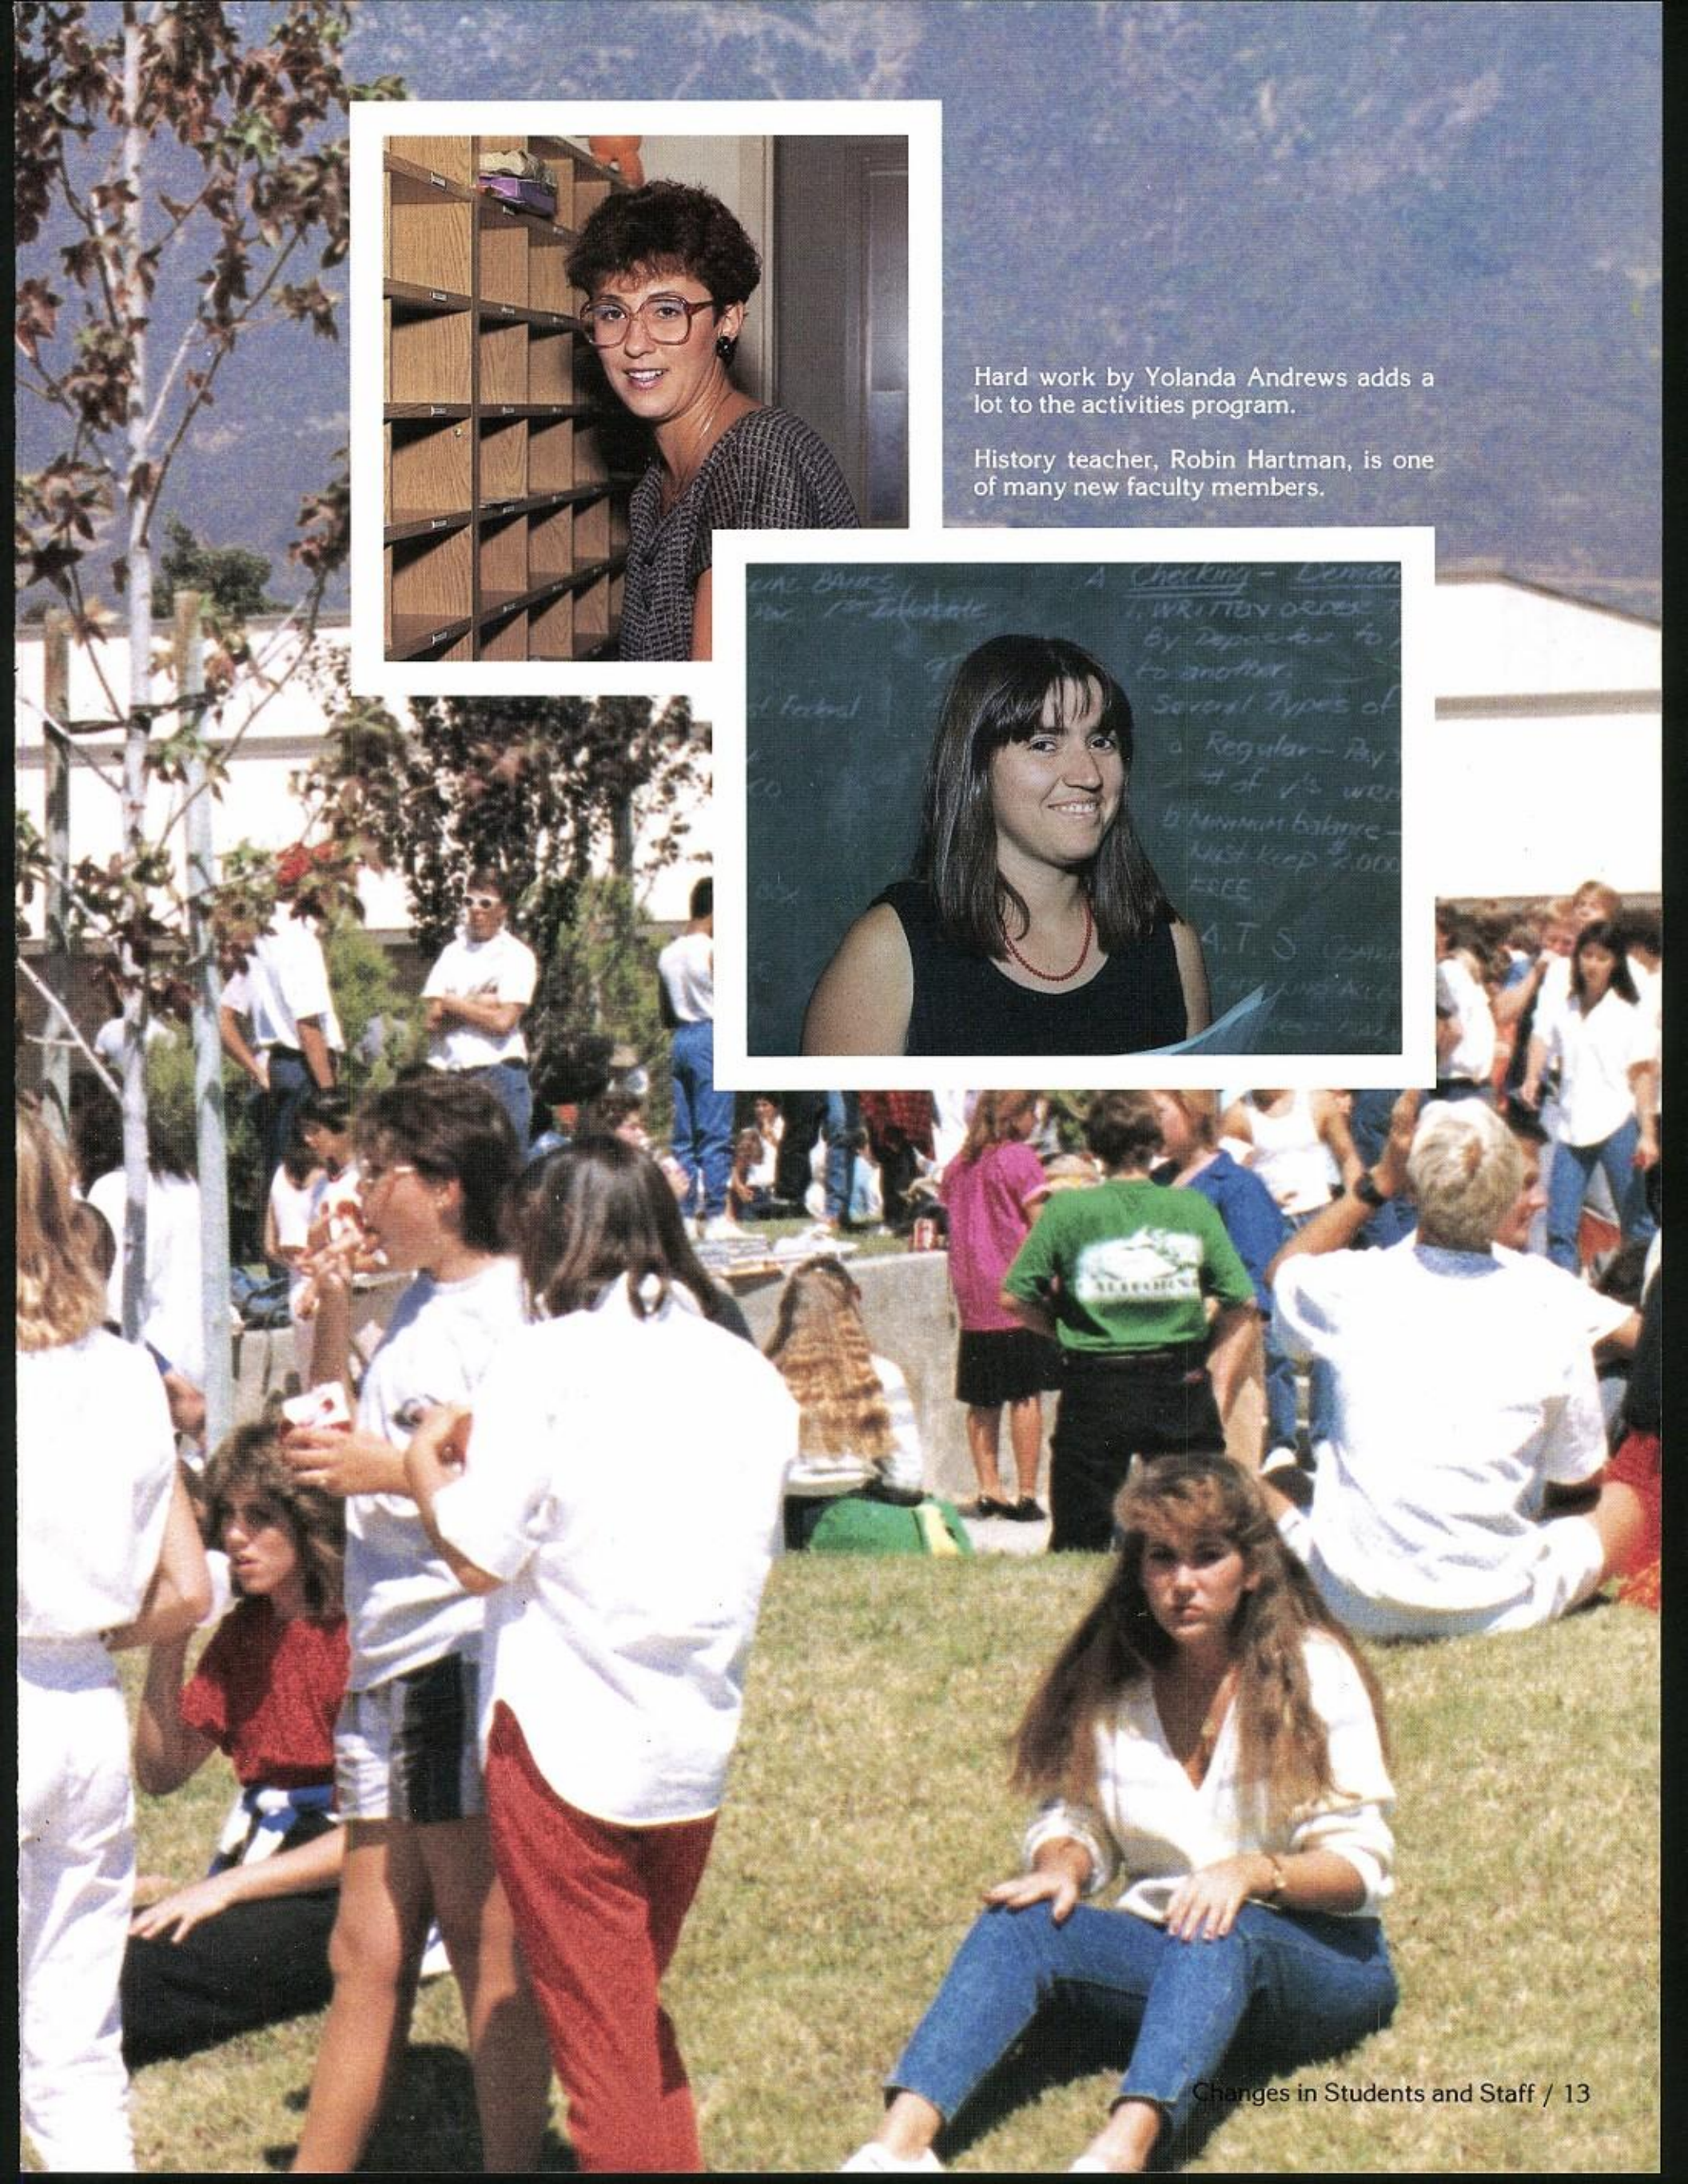

The students and staff have worked together to make Etiwanda the best school in the district.

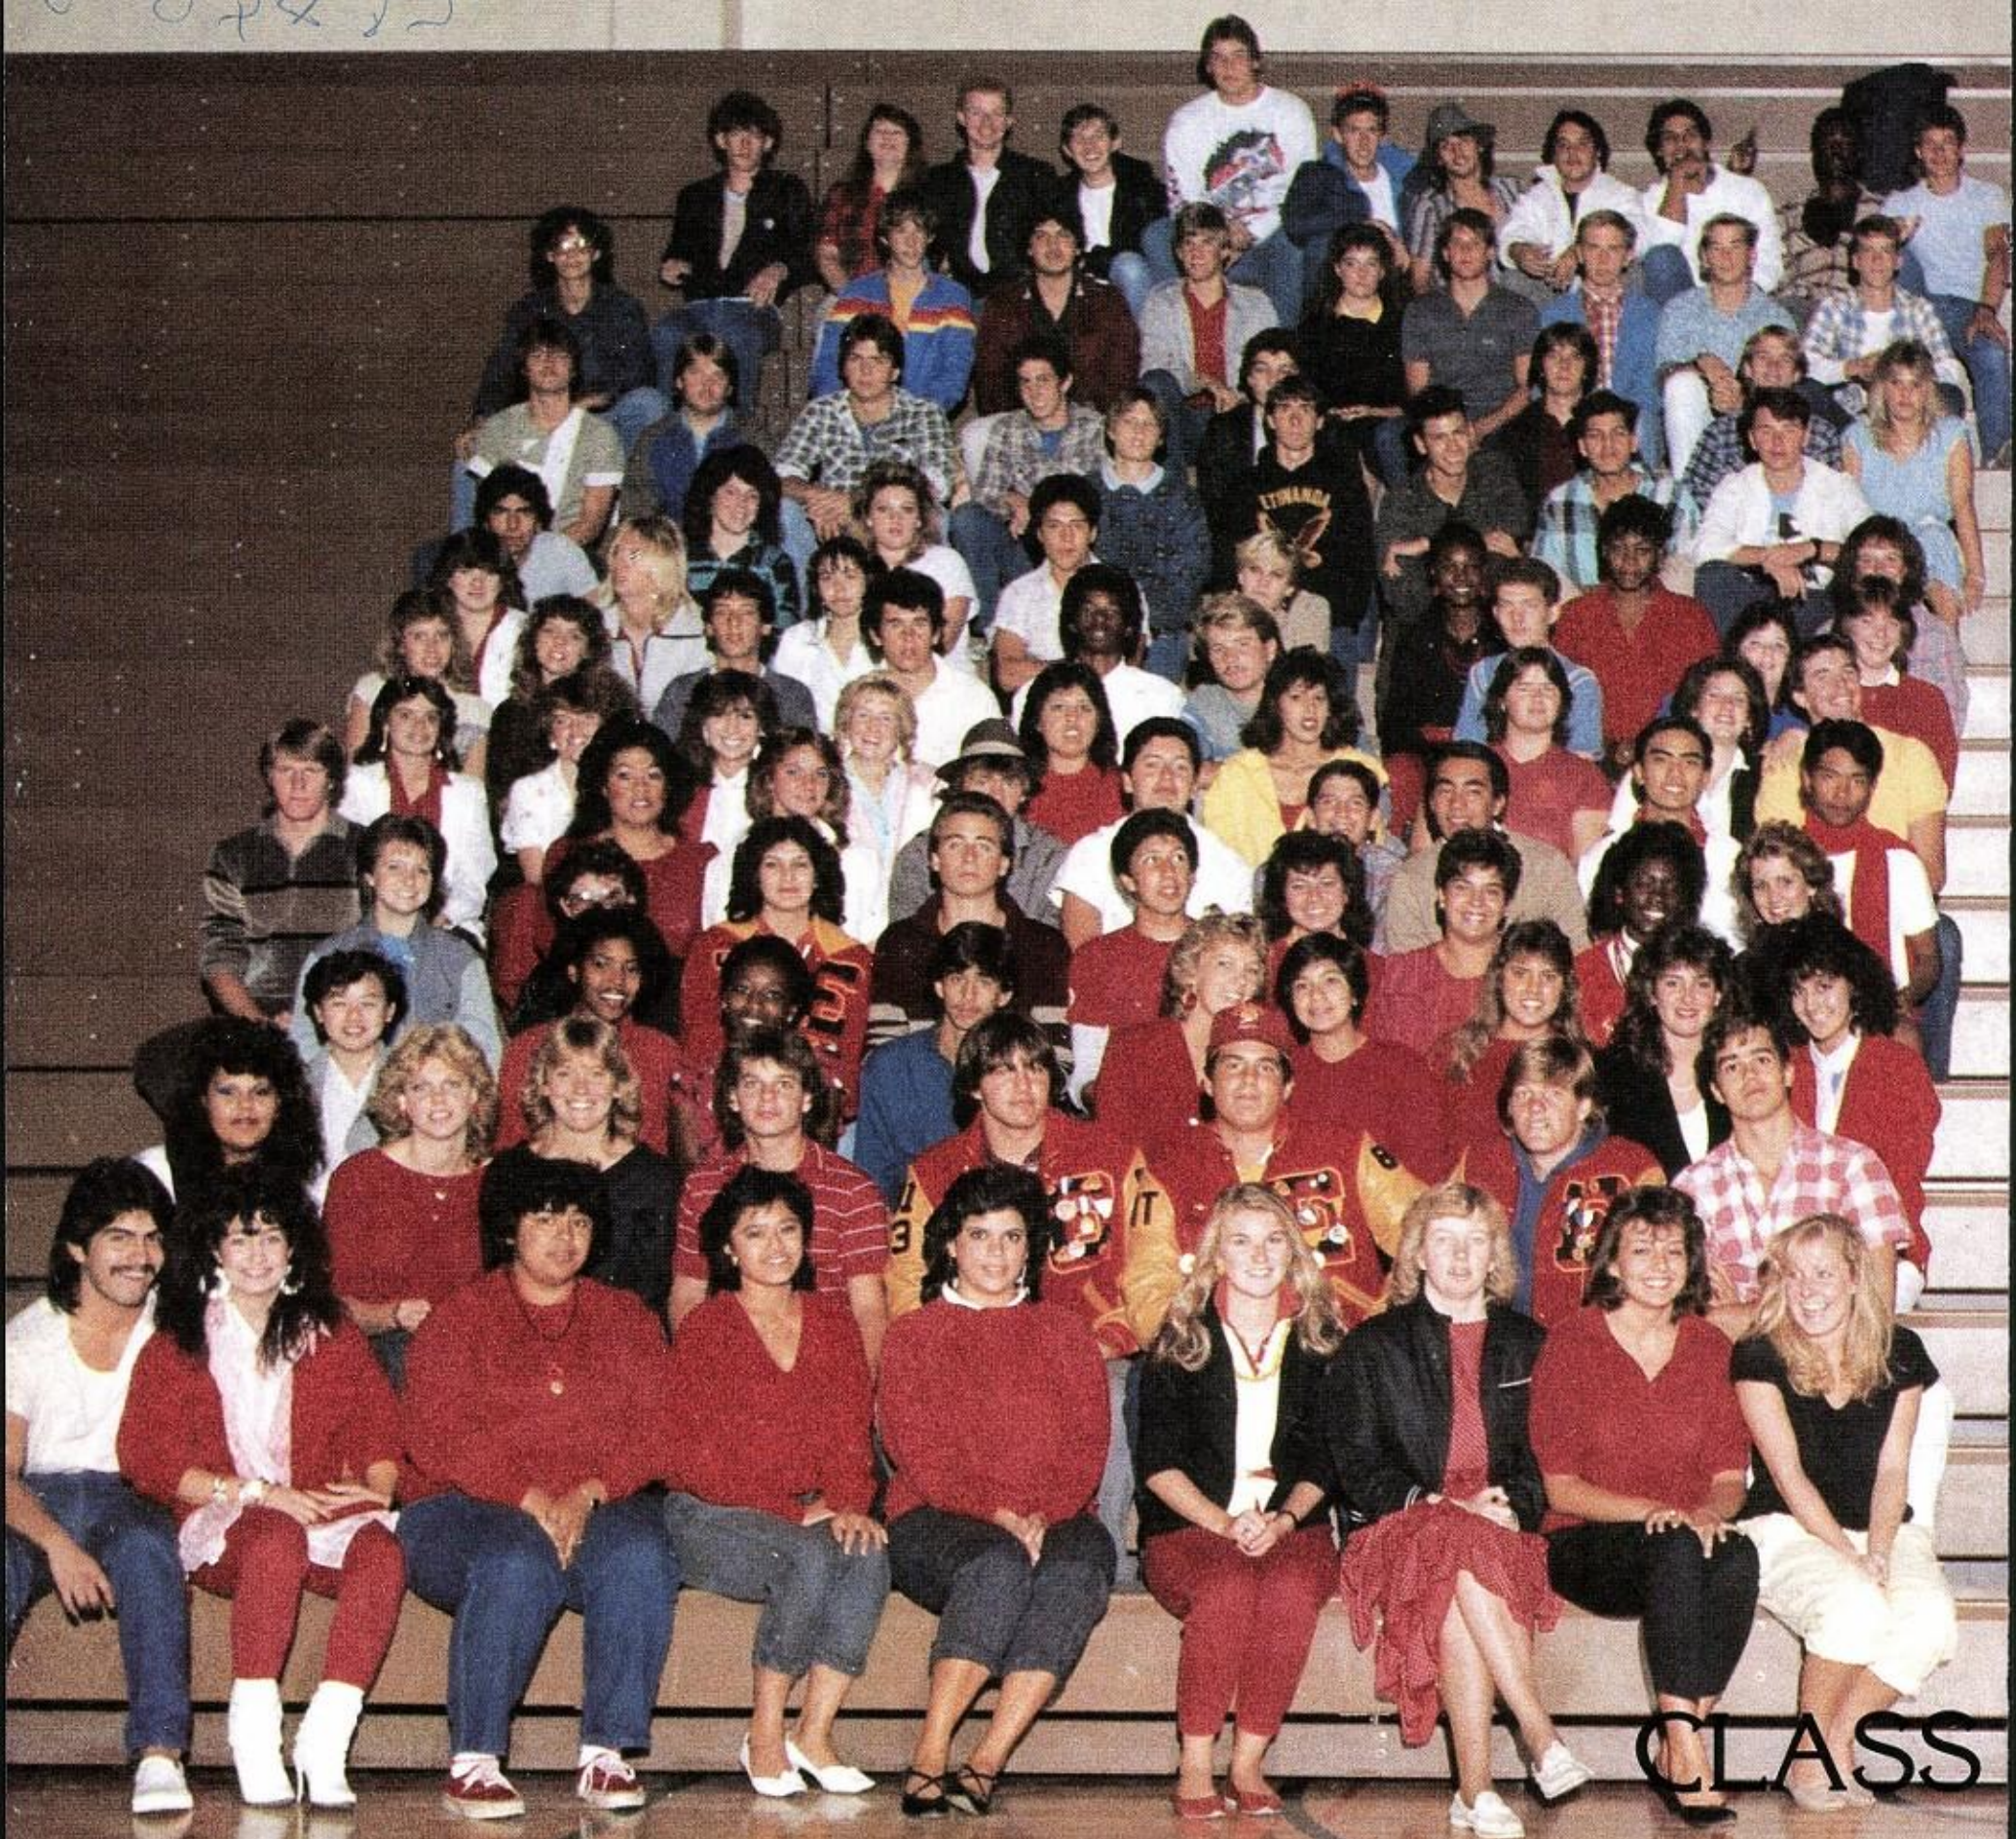

Hard work by Yolanda Andrews adds a lot to the activities program.

History teacher, Robin Hartman, is one of many new faculty members.

Action Enriches Lives

An area of which Etiwanda was proud was the great many changes for the better in our extra-curricular activities.

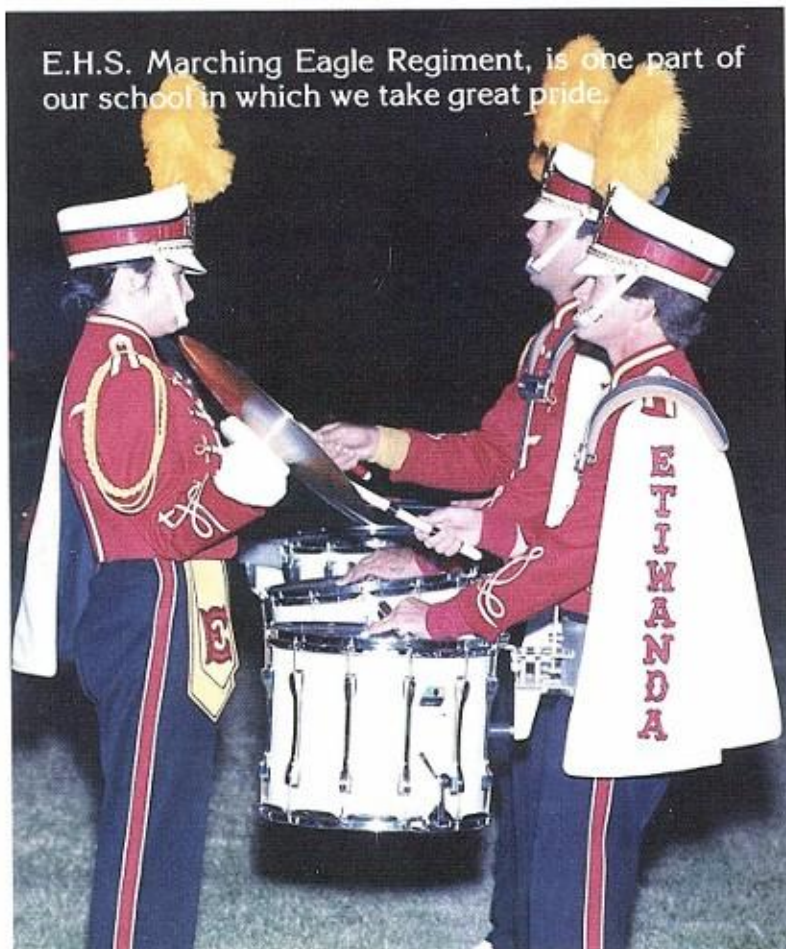

All of our sports teams and athletics improved greatly. We finally reached a competitive level and did better than expected for a third year school.

Etiwanda High School had its first "Homecoming." In 1985 our first group of Eagles had graduated, which made it possible for Alumni to return home.

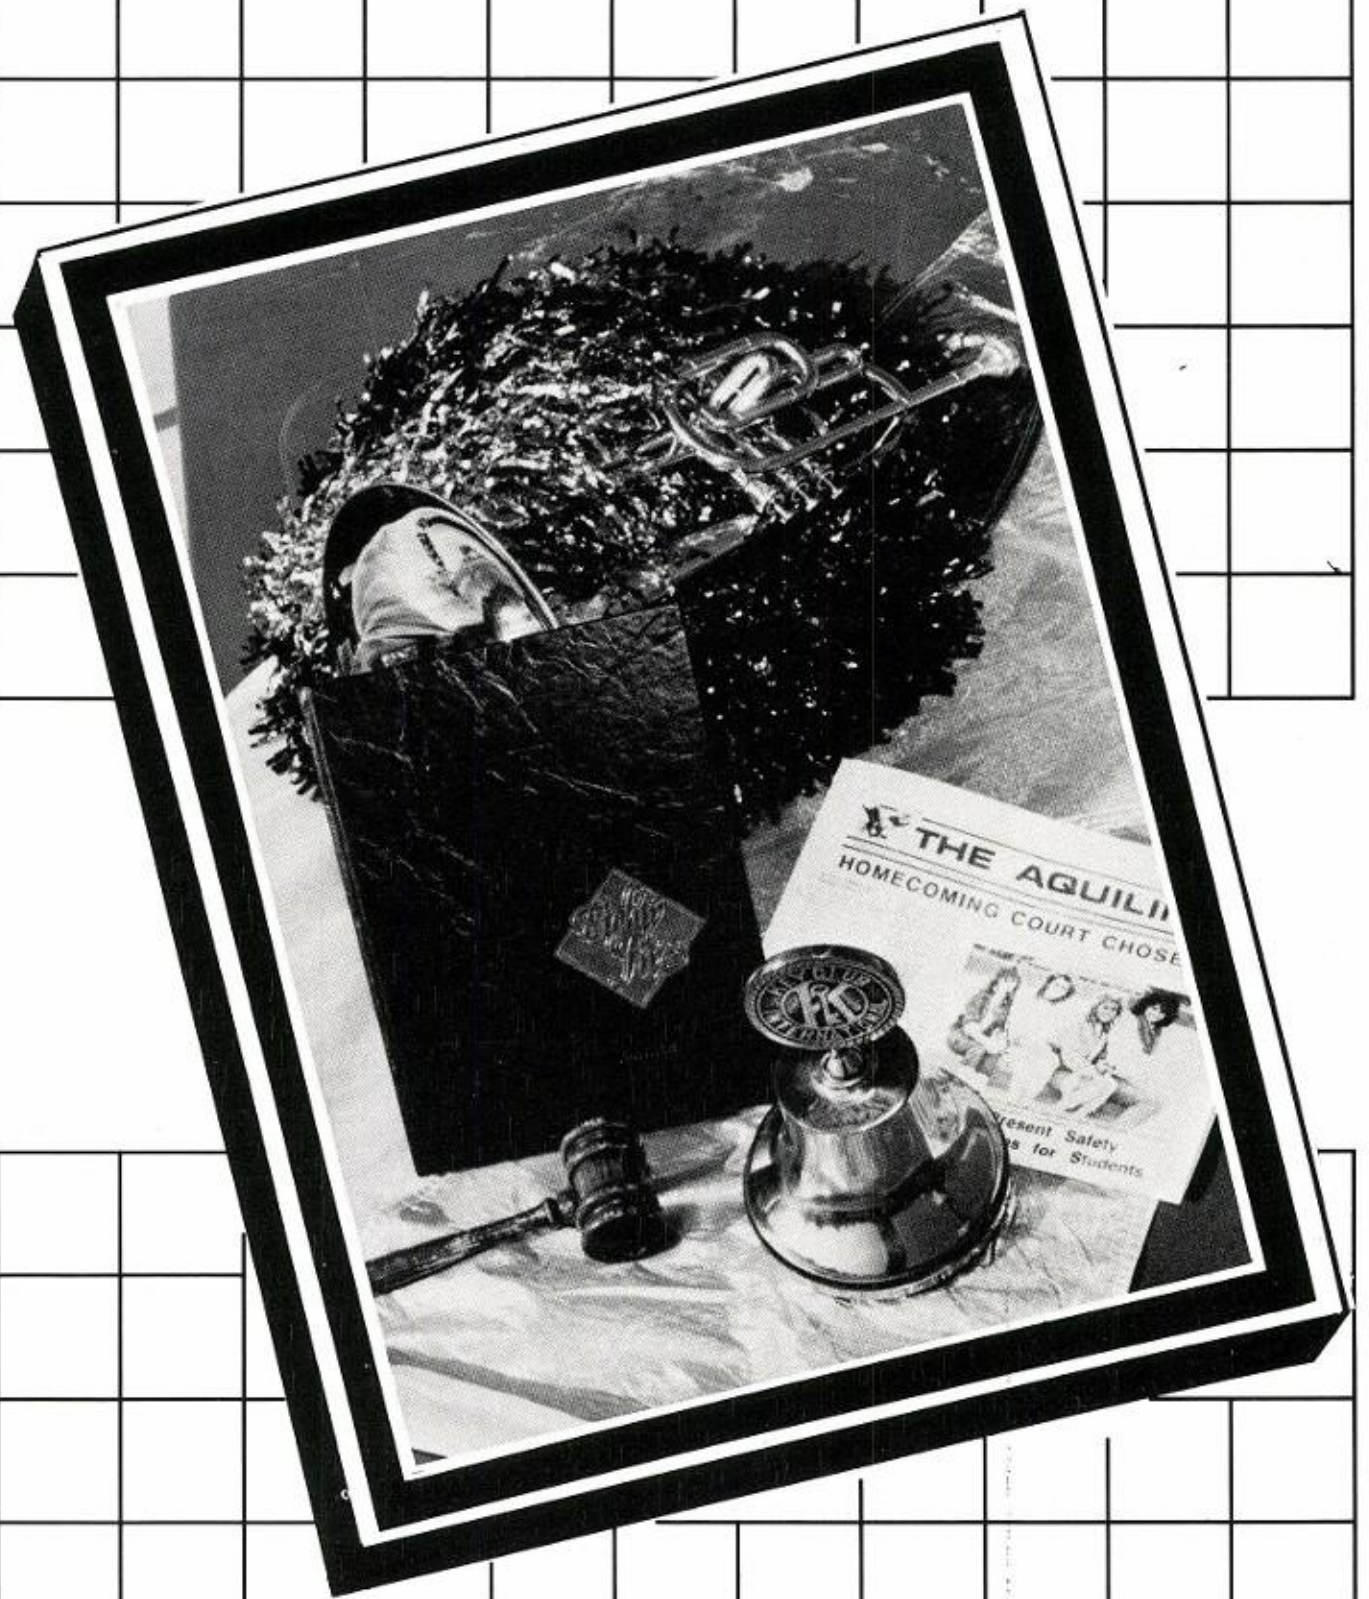

Although our school had just started out, we began traditions, traditions that will be a part of Etiwanda High School, as it continues to grow and be a part of its student's lives.

E.H.S. Marching Eagle Regiment, is one part of our school in which we take great pride.

Etiwanda football players show great pride with school colors and lots of spirit.

Involved Students

The Associated Student Council met everyday with Advisor Mrs. Jean Gillingwaters during third period to discuss and decide issues concerning the student body.

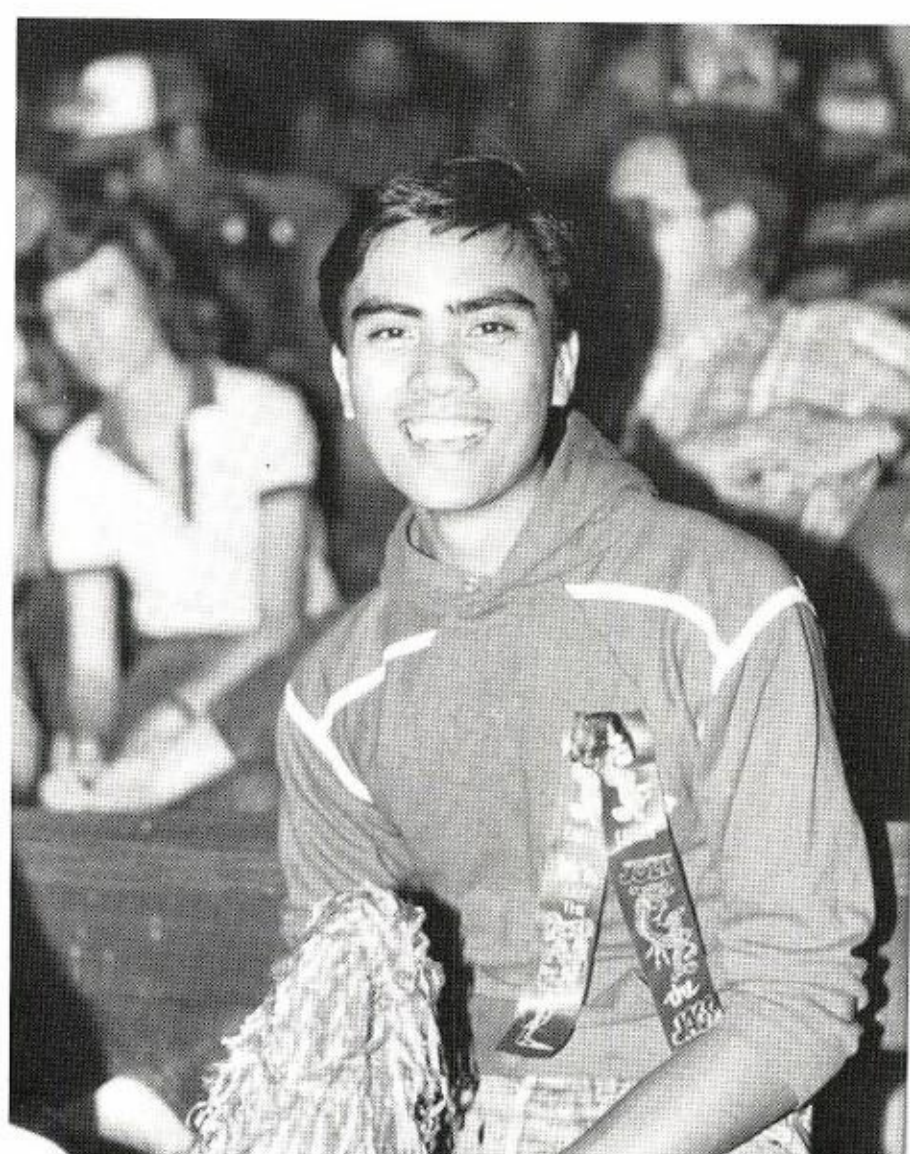

"In a very short period of time we have grown from a loosely assembled student body into a family," stated President Kirk Kushin.

Juniors and Seniors held the ASB positions while all four classes participated in class council. To become a part of ASB or the class councils, required election or appointment to office.

In the three years that the ASB and class council have been active, they arranged various activities such as dances, rallies, and Friday noon activities. "Etiwanda's not just the band, the football team, or the ASB, but everyone," declared Kirk Kushin.

The Struggle

Trying to get everyone together during summer vacation to discuss the plans for the yearbook was very hard. Either they were out of state, working, or moving. Finally we were able to get the majority of the staff to at least one meeting. And when school started, it took us a while to get established. When we finally got started the struggle became getting everyone to get layouts, copy, and captions turned in on time. Needless to say, it didn't work. Our first two deadlines took two or three people, three to four hours after school finishing up. When the book was finished, the struggle was over. The rest was up to the company, Taylor Publishing. When the book came out in June, the staff truly could say that the struggle was worth it.

New yearbook advisor, Mr. David Flocker, stated, "The staff worked hard and learned a great deal about yearbook journalism. Being on yearbook staff required a lot of effort, but the book itself made it all worthwhile."

Aquiline Knows What's Going On

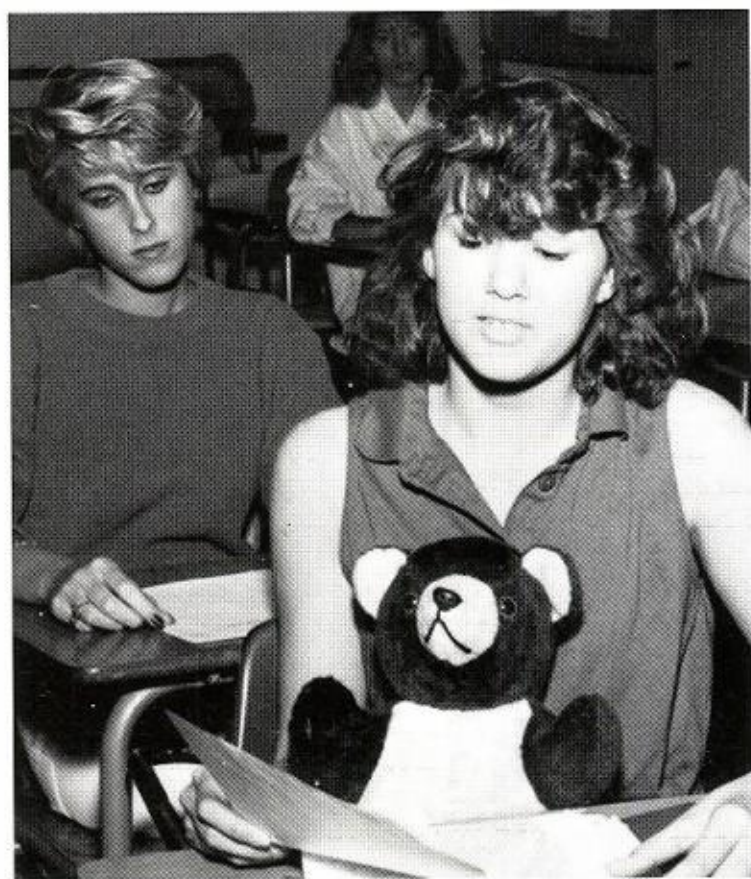

The informative and entertaining school newspaper, "The Aquiline," made up of dedicated staff journalists, constantly attempted to be fair, accurate, and objective in its reporting.

"The Aquiline" reported a variety of stories, from school sports victories, to the biggest world events. Excitement over its appearance on campus was reasonable since "The Aquiline" was produced once a month. The majority of the students looked forward to reading the paper. "I think the school newspaper is a really good idea because it keeps the students informed," commented Carla McPhee.

To be on the staff, one had to have good writing ability, a strong interest in campus activities, and a sense of responsibility. With a lot of dedication and hard work, the staff of "The Aquiline" worked to make the paper the best there was.

Strike Up the Band

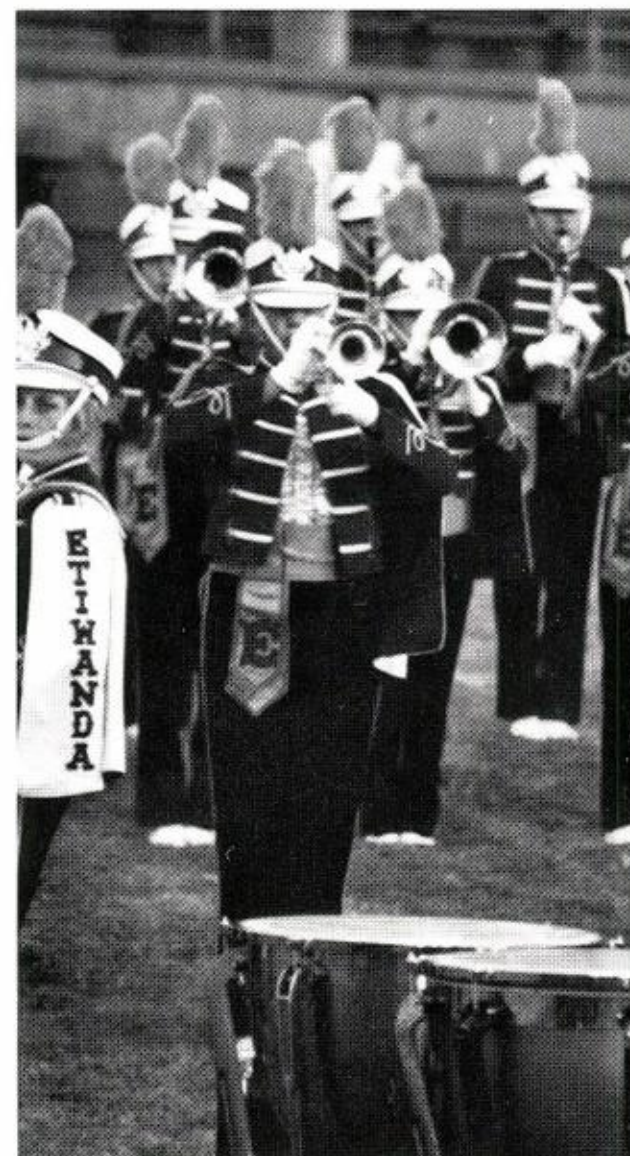

Since the beginning of Etiwanda High School the Marching Eagle Regiment were champions. Not just for all the awards they won, or because they had spent most of their summer in practice, but through hard work and dedication they showed what school spirit and pride they had. Of course it was not easy, but with the help of Drum Majors, Mike Landa and Duane Slaman, they became a precision musical unit.

The biggest change was in the quality of the Regiment. They performed more difficult music with harder maneuvers. The improvement and maturity showed in the entire Regiment. Through the low and high periods, the band came out stronger. One of the hardest challenges was the Tournament of Champions where the band placed second out of many bands. In their busy schedule they performed at such places as Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, Rancho Cucamonga Parade, and at all Varsity Football games.

Behind the success of the Regiment were the leadership abilities of Drum Majors, Mike Landa and Duane Slaman, who led the band at practices. Their contribution was invaluable. They gave student leadership. Other student leaders were; Laura Muna (tall flag capt.), Mark Rogers (brass capt.), Philip Jenkins (percussion capt.). Shannon Cripps, Michelle Krajacic, Scott Bremer, Sandy Holland, Steve Yanik, and Allison Thormeyer proved to be great leaders also.

Future goals for the band were: they will continue to strive for success by going to the Hawaii Invitational, Rose Parade, and Macy's Thanksgiving Parade. Being in the Regiment requires commitment to excellence.

Flags Waving in the Wind

The year was exciting for the E.H.S. Marching Eagle Regiment's Color Guard. Winning competition after competition, having a squad member perform on the tall flags in the Rose Parade, and being called the Southern California Champions are just a few examples of their achievement. The girls worked long hard hours after school and for weeks during the summer to achieve the perfection they're known for. Senior Nicole Roché summed it up, "I'm glad that I had a chance to participate in guard my senior year because I got a lot out of it. They still have a long way to go and I wish them all the luck in the future years." They have come a long way since the school opened and plans for continued improvement will show next year as well.

Ettiawanda High School's Winter Guard was also gaining recognition for their talent. There were ten members and two alternates. They performed on a basketball court to recorded music two or three minutes long. Winter Guard routines were usually more difficult and their costumes more elaborate than color guard's. Mr. Lee felt that Winter Guard was much more experienced. Their goals were, in Mr. Lee's words, "To massively blow everyone away!"

And that they did. On Saturday March 1st, EHS Winterguard Squad won the Miss Drill team USA Tall Flag Championships at the LA Sports Arena. They came in first place out of twenty-five Tall Flag teams from all over the U.S. and were invited to compete in the Miss Drill Team Internationals in Tokyo, Japan on July 26th.

Coming Home for the First Time

Our first Homecoming proved to be a great success, with alumni returning and the crowning of Stacy Castin as Queen. The Homecoming Court consisted of Anna Romanazzi, Shellie Cooper, Gilda Morales, and Mary Tellez-Giron. The best crowd ever in the history of Etiwanda High turned out for the game.

At halftime, the Homecoming

Court was paraded in Corvettes, and the Queen was announced by an airplane reading, "Congratulations, Stacy Castin." Spirit Queen of '84-'85, Michelle Hewitt, returned in a carriage and crowned the Queen. Stacy Castin was involved in pep squad for three years and was a talented member of modern dance.

The Princesses were very active.

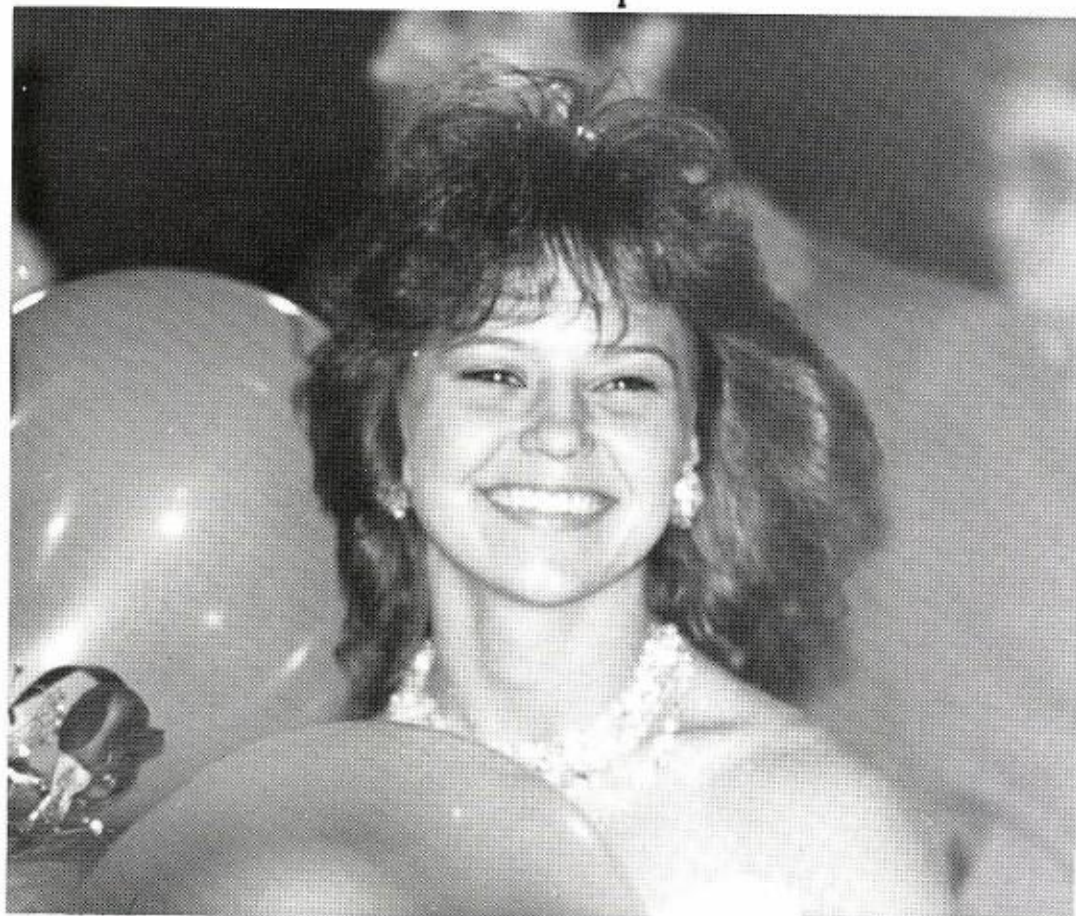

Gilda Morales was involved in Associate Student Body in which she served as Senior Class President. Shellie Cooper enjoyed being in pep squad for over two years. Mary Tellez-Giron was in Color Guard in her Sophomore year, a songleader in her Junior year, and A.S.B. Vice President in her Senior year. Anna Romanazzi involved in Modern Dance.

For a

Year

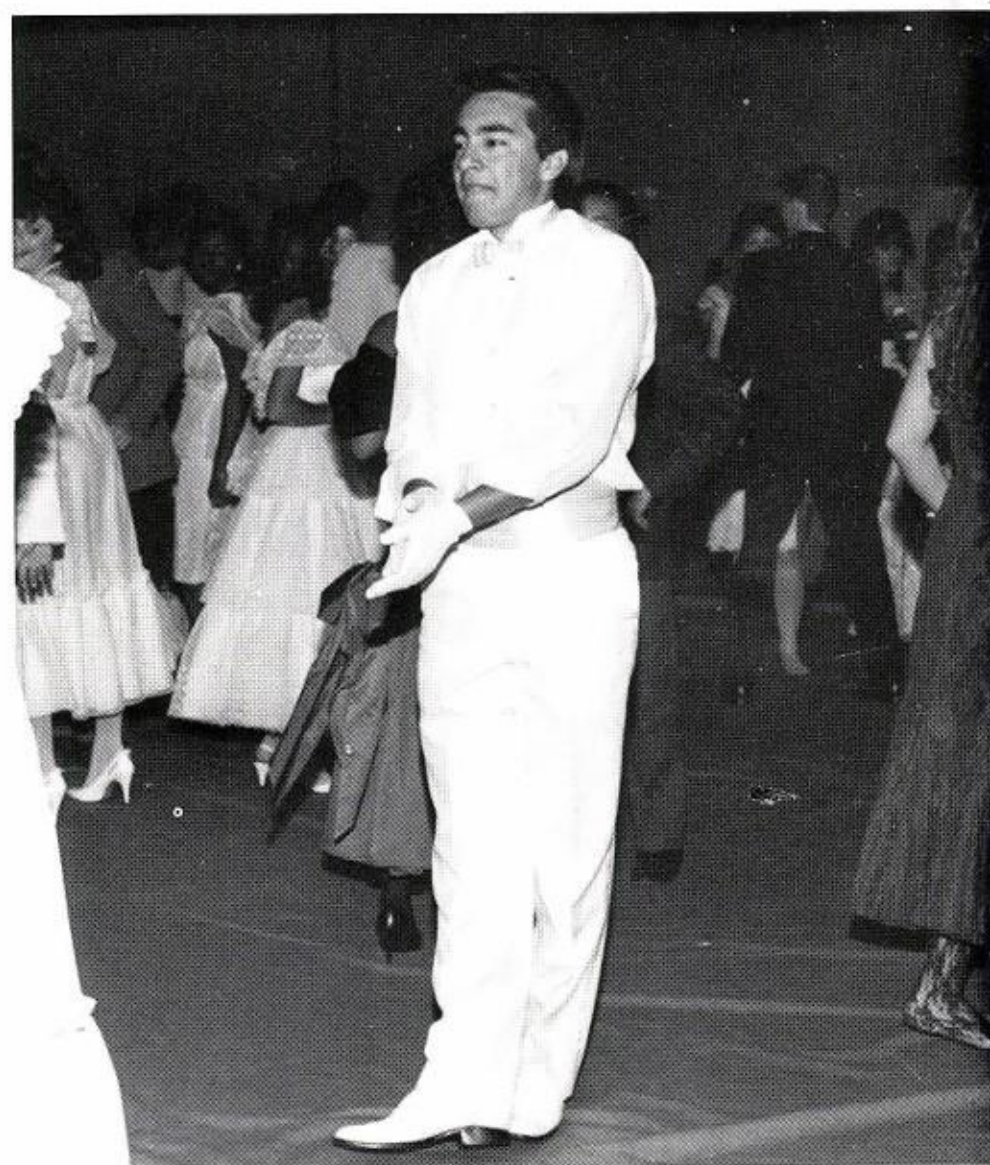

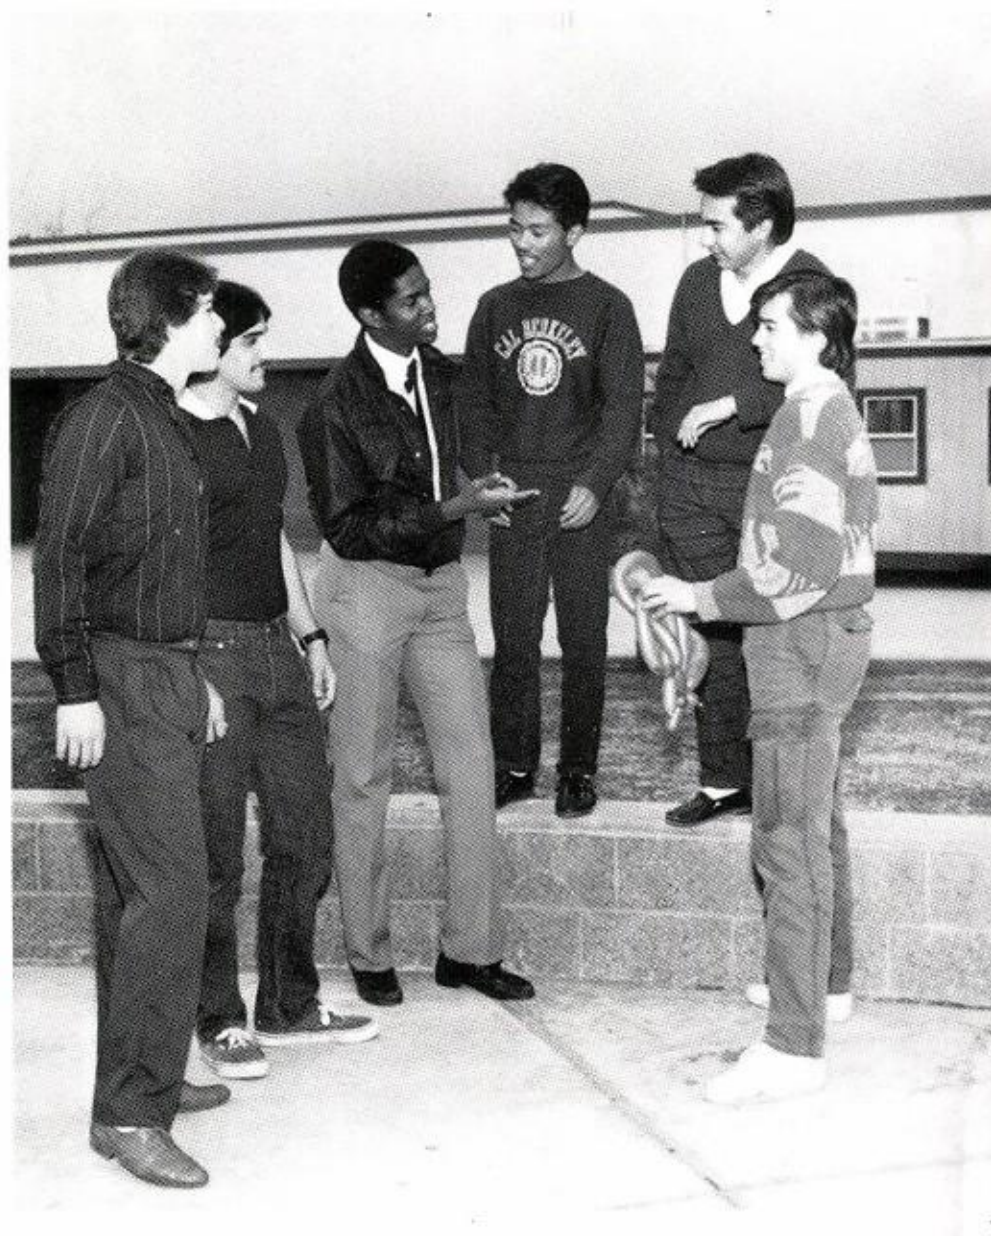

The girls finally did it! They asked the guy of their choice to the backwards dance. "King's Ball is a good idea. It encourages the girls to ask a guy to a dance and not be embarrassed. It also gets those shy guys, or guys afraid of rejection to go to a dance and not feel uncomfortable," commented Sheryl Edelsberg.

The princes consisted of Blake Berman, Walter Hawthorne, Kirk Kushin, Jason Mahar, Bill Salazar, and Macario Padre.

Kirk Kushin felt "honored" when being chosen as prince. He stated, "We are all such good friends, that if the other wins, I would be just as happy if I had won."

Jason Mahar was King. He was active in football and wrestling. Also, he played the guitar outside of school. "I felt honored, especially when Stacy was chosen Homecoming Queen," he recalled.

Walter Hawthorne thought having a school king could be helpful for better school spirit.

Pep Squad: Bigger Is Better

Varsity Cheer changed for the better! Over the last three years, the squad became larger and had more school spirit! The cheerleaders were Stacy Castin (Football Captain), Chandra Anderson, Sabrina Cole, Heather Higgins, Anne Hill, Lori Maxheimer, Sandy Shimizo, Alyce Tibbets, Denise Trostle, Rachel Villarin, Shannon Wilson, and Jill Wolcott.

The Songleaders who had a larger squad and were better organized, helped to make E.H.S. one of the most spirited schools!

Pride Extends to J.V. and Frosh

Junior Varsity Cheerleading squad excelled at school pride! They supported J.V. sports and helped organize rallies. Squad members were Denise Cardona (Football Captain), Brooke Jacobson, Michelle Jenkins, Angela Laughlin, Sandy Mejia, Kim Pritchard, and April Tracy.

The Frosh squad started to make history at E.H.S. by supporting Frosh sports for the first time and making the school spirited! They helped promote spirit and pride. The Frosh Cheerleaders were Cindy Parkee, Michelle Willcockson, Stephanie Carroll, Kim Higgins (Football Captain), Shaynae Mendoza,

Performances Prove Great Challenge

The Concert Choir and Chorus excelled at performing. Concert Choir had forty members. They gave performances at such places as the Winter Concert, Montclair Plaza, Pops Concert, Summit Elementary School, and County Choir Clinic at the University of Redlands. The Choir is hard to get into because an audition is required. The Chorus had performances at the Spring Concert, Holiday Show and Etiwanda's Musical, The Wiz. Both groups represented Etiwanda High at all community performances. Mr. Lee taught Choir, while Mr. Behrens had the Chorus.

The Concert Choir Members: Chandra Anderson, Angelia Berry, Shellie Brann, Anthony Castillo, Christina Childs, Christy Diaz, Eric Dick, Jennifer Edmon, Katherine Emerson, Daren Ford, Nicole Ford, Todd Haily, Tracey Howell, Cheryl Johnson, Robert Johnson, Ursula Kleinecke, Holly Kyle, Lisa Lamm, Andrea Matthews, Tana Murray, Jennifer Nelson, Darcy Nygaard, Dawn Nygaard, Patricia Oldenburg, Eric Powell, Sergio Rameriz, Valerie Ramos, Jason Rogers, Mark Rogers, Janine Rohlf, Michael Simpson, Angela Smith, Ursula Stuter, Rene Tippens, Dean Walter, David Watters, Paula Westenhaver, Terry Yanik.

The Chorus: Grace Alcorn, Pauline Araneta, Veronica Avila, Leah Bender, Teri Bongardt, Dian Brown, Stacy Brund, Gina Burhus, Shirlene Conrad, Theresa Daugherty, Aurora Chacon, Kim Heledreth, Kim Higgins, Nicole Ford, Heidi Kreger, Lisa Maciel, Margo Magend, Jewellee Mattern, Krista McConnel, Margret McDonald, Jason Miller, Jon Mills, Tracy Mitchell, Jason More, Sharon Page, Gina Scanlin, Rachelle Tarin, Steve Tavizon, Shirley Topolse, Yvonne Torrez, Carol Umland, Tracy Wolcott, Rene Compton, Shellie Brown, Mark Miraldi, Staci Castin, Shelly Simola.

Etiwanda High school had many outstanding students in sports, band, and art. These people were singled out for various awards and have entertained us. Etiwanda's dance class was no exception to the talent that has prevailed here. They were in the production, "The Wiz," they have danced in many noon shows, and also had recital in the spring.

The advisor of Dance, Mrs. Miranda, had two classes with approximately 75 students. All of these students signed up; there were no auditions to participate. The students liked to dance mainly to rock, doing modern or jazz dancing. Mrs. Miranda had many outstanding students, but there were five that she called her top students: Stacy Castin, Anna Romanazzi, Rose Romanazzi, Denise Trostle, and Leigha Meyer. These students worked hard all year and it paid off. Dance class provided another reason for EHS to be proud.

Eagles in the Spotlight

The EHS Drama Department performed its first major full length production entitled, "The Miracle Worker." It was the true story of Helen Keller's life. Being blind and deaf, she was in a dark world no one knew how to reach. It took a young Irish woman named Anne Sullivan to reach her mind and teach her how to communicate.

The Previous year several one-act plays were produced, but this play opened new curtains for the thespians to expand.

In her first year at Etiwanda, Mrs. Fakatoumafi directed the play with the help of the student director, Angela Blankenship. Auditions were opened to not only drama club members but the entire student body. Many talented people tried out for the parts. The directors had such a difficult time casting characters that a second audition had to be held.

The leading roles of Helen Keller and Anne Sullivan were taken by a Senior, Lisa Stamey, and Freshman, Katie Meeks. Also, many important people were involved behind the scenes.

The Ones To Be In

The Vocational/Industrial Clubs of America, or V.I.C.A. was a skills art club. They operated machines from lathes, mills, and drilling operations, to N.C. (Numerical Control, a computer assisted machine). They also used automotive small gas engines and architectural and mechanical drafting tools. As advisors, Mr. Earl Ramsey, Mr. Richard Pena, Mr. John List, Mr. Ben Taylor, helped them to complete in a competition called "Skills Olympics." The club competed with other V.I.C.A. clubs in the areas of skills & technology using the different kinds of machinery at Mt. Sac on March 8, 1986. When they arrived at Mt. Sac they were divided into their departments and were given a three-hour written manipulative skills test, in which they showed their expertise. The metal department had to draw graphs, copy them onto metal blocks, and use the machines to cut them out with accuracy.

Along with the written test, the Drafting Department, had to compete with women in constructing a pavillion and the new park in Cucamonga. They also had students working on a computer for General Dynamics.

Unlike the other two departments, the Power Mechanics didn't have to take the written test. However, in that three hours, each person, working alone, had to take apart an engine of a car, make precision measurements, on the external parts, and put the engine back together.

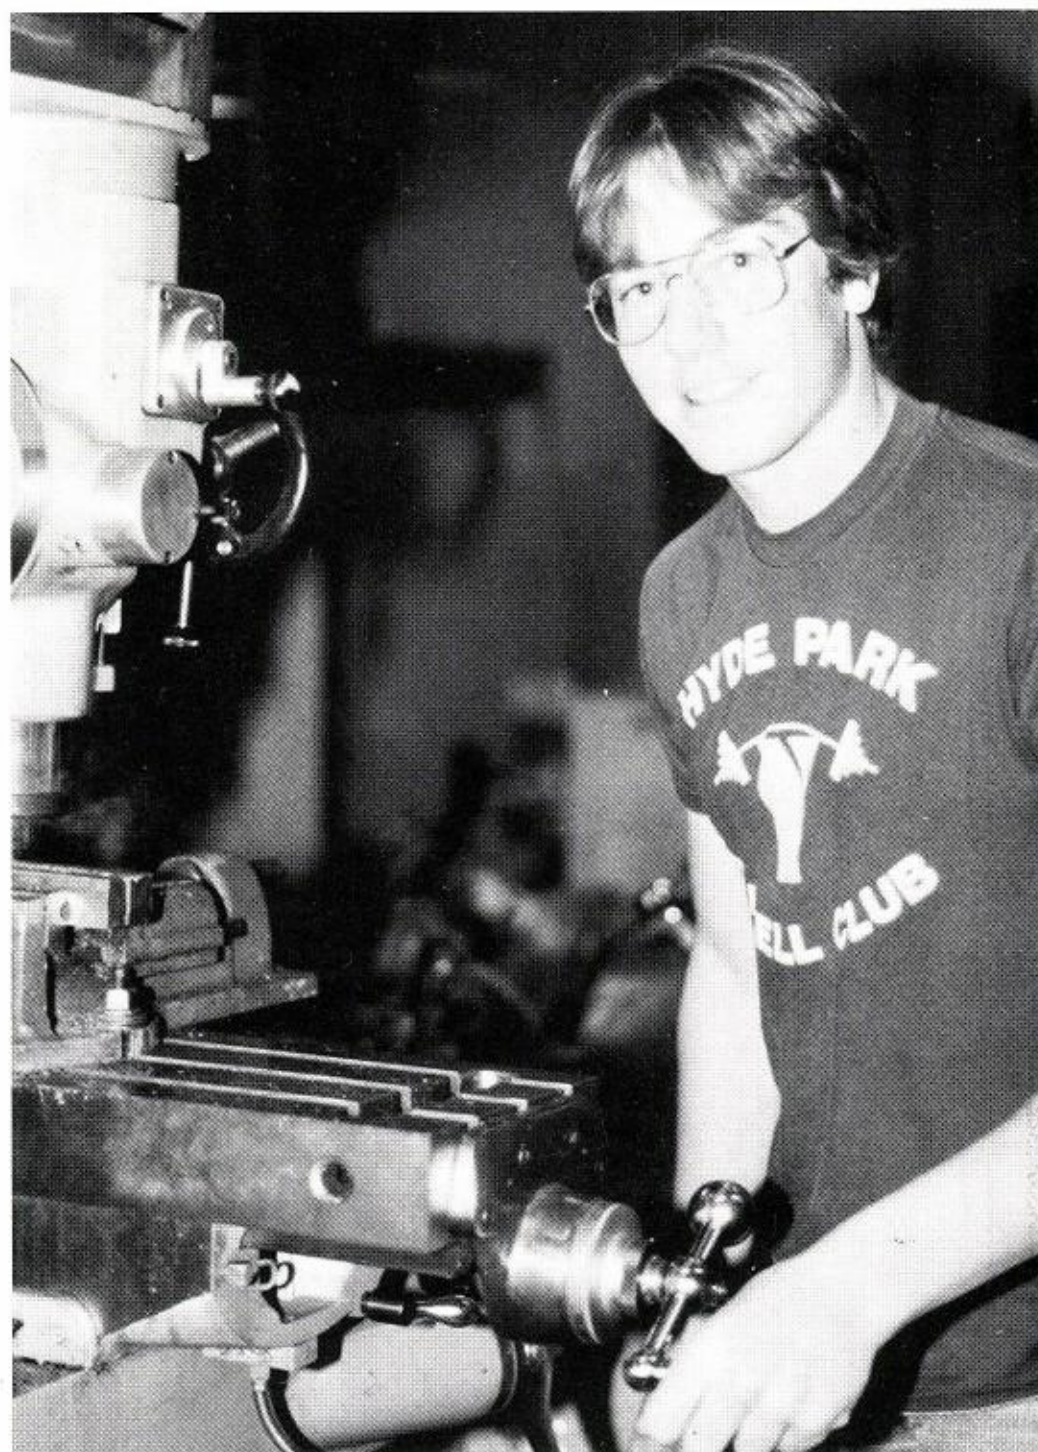

The Drama Club was made up of students that were interested in participating in plays and seeing productions of plays. With Mrs. Fakatoumahi as Advisor, Angela Blankenship as President and Shelley Choate as Secretary, the Miracle Worker and the Wiz were performed.

The Ski Club brought together students of all skill levels to participate in their common interest of skiing. Under the leadership of Advisor, Lori Wilder, President, Tom Wight, and Vice President, Don Butler, Ski Club raised money for transportation. They enjoyed skiing at Mountain High, Snow Summit and took a long weekend in Lake Tahoe.

Dance, one of the fastest growing programs, was a club that teaches professionalism and dances that people like to see. Led by President Stacy Castin, Vice President, Kim Wilkey, and Mrs. Miranda, They danced in the quad during lunch in a recital and in "The Wiz," the musical play that was shown in May. "The reason this club was organized, was because many of the girls were chosen to be in advanced dance at Chaffey — and they wanted a dance program here," explained Advisor, Mrs. Miranda. "I love to dance and Dance Club is a good experience," stated Sherrell Sellers.

The Visual Arts Club promoted and encouraged visual arts on campus and augmented campus activities with trips to art-related events. Some of these trips included going to places like J. Paul Getty Museum in Malibu and the Los Angeles Museum. "It gives those interested in art an opportunity to explore the field more, and those not interested a chance to look brainy if they become famous and have to be interviewed on Donahue," stated Vice President Day Sederstrom.

Rene Tippens, Dalene Sederstrom and Monica Meyers were President, Vice President, and Secretary/Treasurer, respectively. Ms. Brouse was the advisor. The Visual Arts Club worked together on the mural in the "A" Building.

Firsts

Black Student was an organization open to any student who wished to learn about black cultural backgrounds and histories.

Daurence Hubert and Callie Smith were the President and Vice President, with Jeanne Munz as the advisor. B.S.U. held a "Black History Week," which featured Phyllis Wheatly, America's first black poet, Harriet Tubman, who worked with the Underground Railroad, that helped the slaves gain their freedom, Martin Luther King, Jr., who advocated nonviolent social and political action by Negroes in their struggle for civil rights, Marian Anderson, a singer and Frederick Douglas, the American abolitionist and author of North Star, a book that spoke on behalf of the emancipation of women as well as slaves.

The Black Student Union also nominated their own court, which consisted of Walter Hawthorne, as King; Daurence Hubert, Michelle Byrd, Tiffiani Frye, Callie Smith as princesses and Cynthia Greene as their Queen. They were announced at the after game dance in the gym. "It was great and wonderful to be the first B.S.U. Queen of E.H.S.," Queen Cynthia exclaimed as she looked back on her night of triumph.

The California Scholarship Federation, or C.S.F., is an Honorary Society that recognized outstanding scholarship and good citizenship. Advised by Beverly Kuck, President, Kamna Dhoka, and Vice President Bruce Draper, this federation offered scholarship possibilities to outstanding students.

The Kiwanis Educating Youth provided an organization for students to get involved with their school and their community. Key Club was advised by Mrs. Luhrs with leadership from President, Daurence Hubert, and Vice President, Grace Hearn. They held lunch meetings once a week and held night meetings once a month at a member's house. They discussed and planned the annual "Wake-a-Thon" and the Picnic with Key Clubs from other schools.

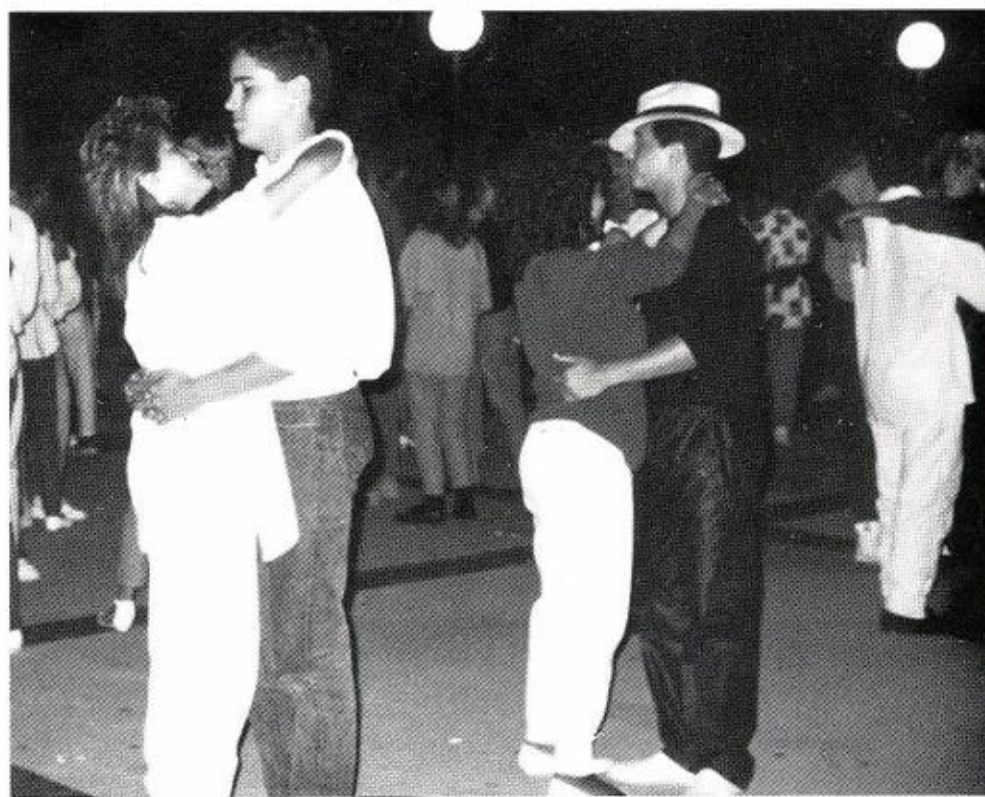

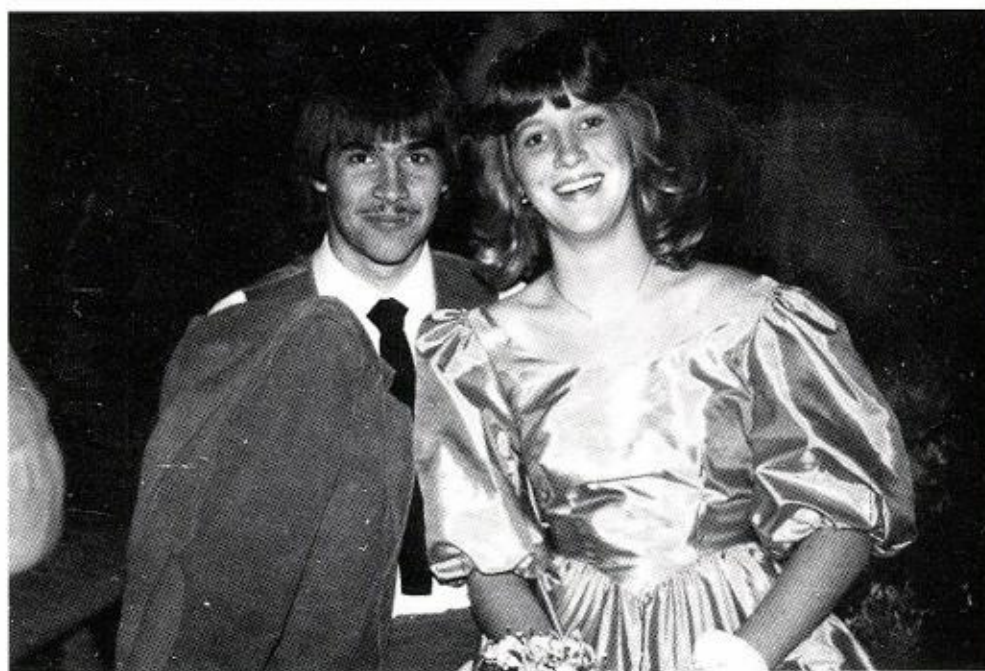

The Spanish Club was opened to all students who wished to extend their contact with Spanish related activities. Under the leadership of Bill Walsh and Vice President Tracy Collins, plans were made to attend the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera's production of "Evita," the award-winning play based upon Argentina's Eva Peron.

Move Over Solid Gold, Here Comes EHS

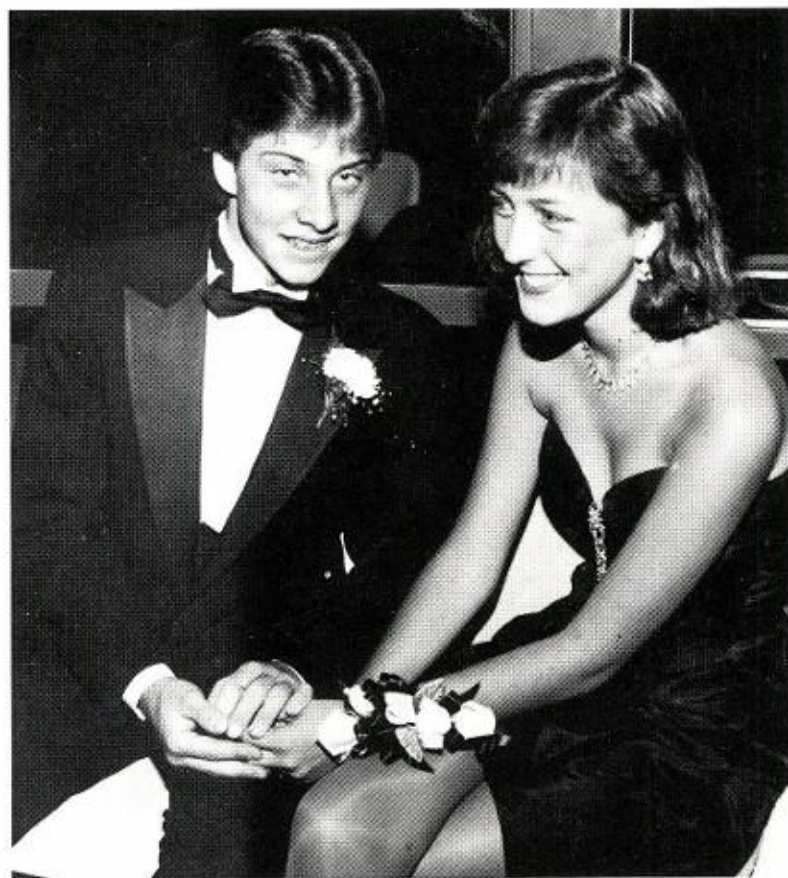

"I think dances are a good idea. They give students a chance to get together with their friends and have a good time," stated Jeff Olson. He added, it also gives people a chance to get to know people a little better in a nonacademic atmosphere. The dances consisted of Homecoming, after games dances, King's ball, and many more.

Dances are a good opportunity to socialize with your friends. Teacher, Sandra Mayo commented, "dances are an important part of learning. To be able to socialize is as important as academics."

The Teen/Parent Project

Students in Ms. Brondino's IIIIP English class last year wrote essays on "My Three Biggest Problems" and Ms. Brondino said, "They complained so bitterly about their parents that I assigned them to interview two adults with teens and write an essay about adults' three biggest problems." Her students also worked on rules that were fair to both teens, and parents, and they also wrote an essay called, "If I were a parent."

They had plenty of class discussions about Parent-Teen relationships and finally someone said, "We should put all of this in a book."

Heidi Sonzena, Frances Tulao, Cheryl Swain, Shellie Brann, and Scott Coatsworth were the group volunteers who worked on graphics, promotion, marketing, and editing.

They met at Hunter House, a publishing office run by Kiran Rana. There, Kiran taught them how to work on a computer, to gather information for the book, to write letters, to famous people, newspapers and magazines, to help promote the book and, most of all, to work together as a group to make this book titled, Raising Each Other: An Info. Book for Parents and Teens, a great success.

County Winners

It was a winning year for EHS, but not only in sports. Participating for only the third time, Etiwanda High School placed First in the county and twenty-fourth in the state. In the Academic Decathlon, the team consisted of seniors Marty LaFrenz, Kamna Dhoka, Gene Villarin and Scott Coatsworth. The juniors were Donovan Cocas, Bruce Draper, Chandra Anderson and Allison Thormeyer. Nancy Patterson, a social studies teacher, coached them. These students, with the help of many teachers, studied in the fields of social science, mathematics, science, economics, language literature, and fine arts. Not only did the competition require knowledge in these subjects, but the students also had to write an interview, present an impromptu and prepared speech. They placed first place in the essays and the Super Quiz. Mrs. Patterson stated, "These students worked hard, and it paid off. The Success of our 85-86 Academic Decathlon team was further evidence of the greatness of Etiwanda."

Miracles and Tragedies

Live Aid, a concert with over a hundred artists, made over seventy million dollars for Africa. It was the idea of Bob Geldof who got such singers as Madonna, Phil Collins, Tina Turner, Brian Adams, and many more to devote their time on July 13, 1985, to help raise money, for the starving people, came. More saw it on T.V. All of the proceeds went to help feed the starving people of Africa.

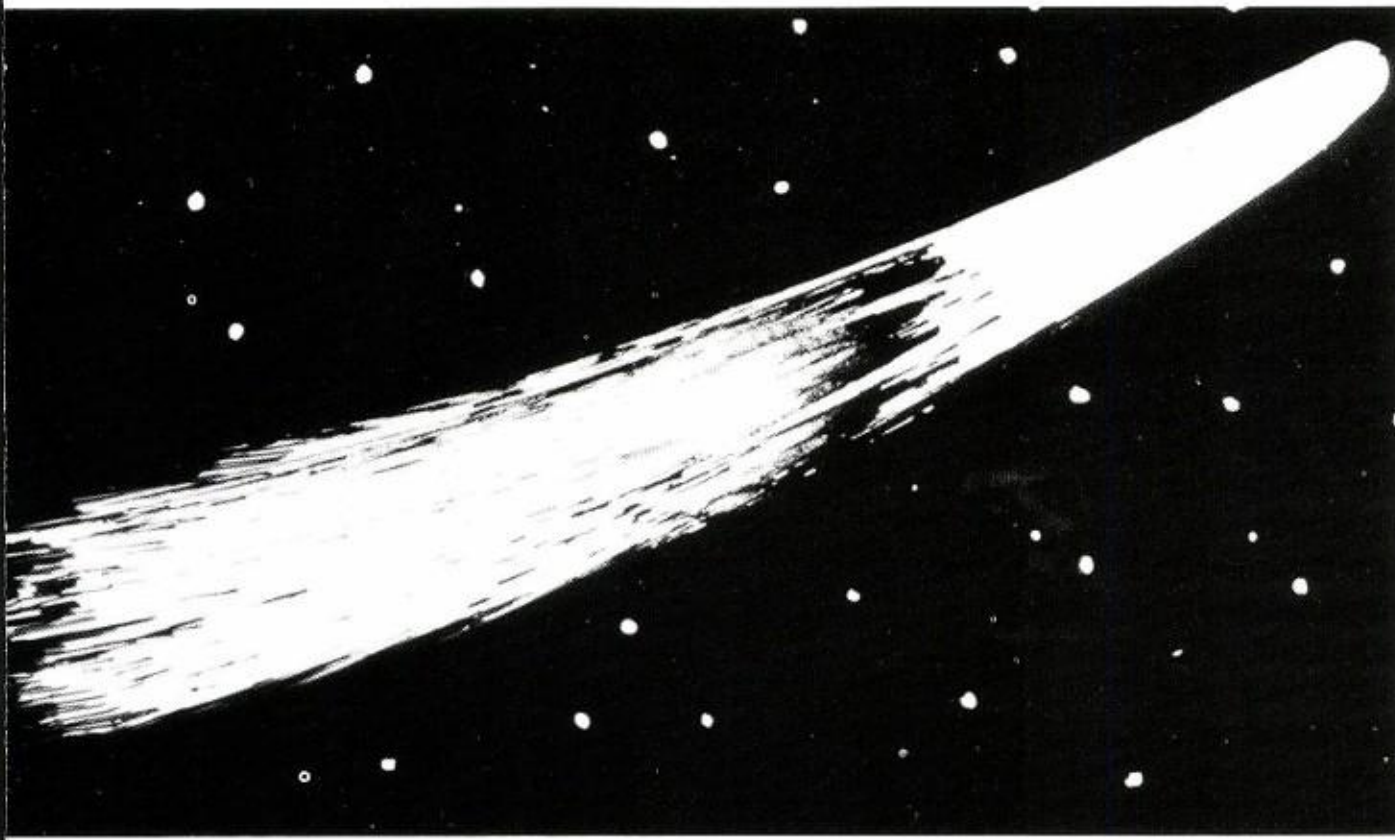

In a year when fans suffered revelations with extensive drug use by players, the accomplishments of this man were spectacular antidote to the fans' pain. In Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium on September 11, 1985, with 47,237 people watching, 44 year-old Peter Edward Rose broke Ty Cobb's record for "most career hits" with 4,192. Rose's timing with the bat couldn't have been finer against the San Diego Padres Pitcher, Eric Show. Ty Cobb held the record for over fifty years with 4,191 career base hits. So far Pete Rose, the all-time major league leader for career hits, ended the 1985 season with 4,204.

In late September 1985, an earthquake hit Mexico measuring 7.8 of the richter scale. As many as 25 buildings were destroyed killing approximately 10,000 people. Many were buried though alive in the ruins. Rescuers worked day and night sifting through the results of the earthquake.

Moderate earthquakes had been common in Mexico City in weeks previous to the big disaster. However, the latest upheaval was quite different. Downtown buildings began to vibrate wildly, metal lampposts swayed and bent like rubber in their sockets in the shuddering streets.

Halley's Comet "returned to earth" in late 1985 and early 1986 for the first time since 1910. This comet was named for the famed English Astronomer, Edmund Halley. Halley's spectacle was first observed by the ancient Egyptians in 240 B.C.

The comet orbits, on average, every seventy-seven years. Few people have been able to live to see the coming and going of the comet, more than once. Mark Twain was fortunate enough to be born in the comet year, and predicted his own death in 1910 simultaneous to Halley's next arrival. Maybe one of us will be fortunate to be alive long enough to see it twice.

In seventy-seven seconds, a sudden burst of white and yellow fire, trails out to form a twisted "Y" in the sky. The metal pieces of the space shuttle, Challenger fell into the sea.

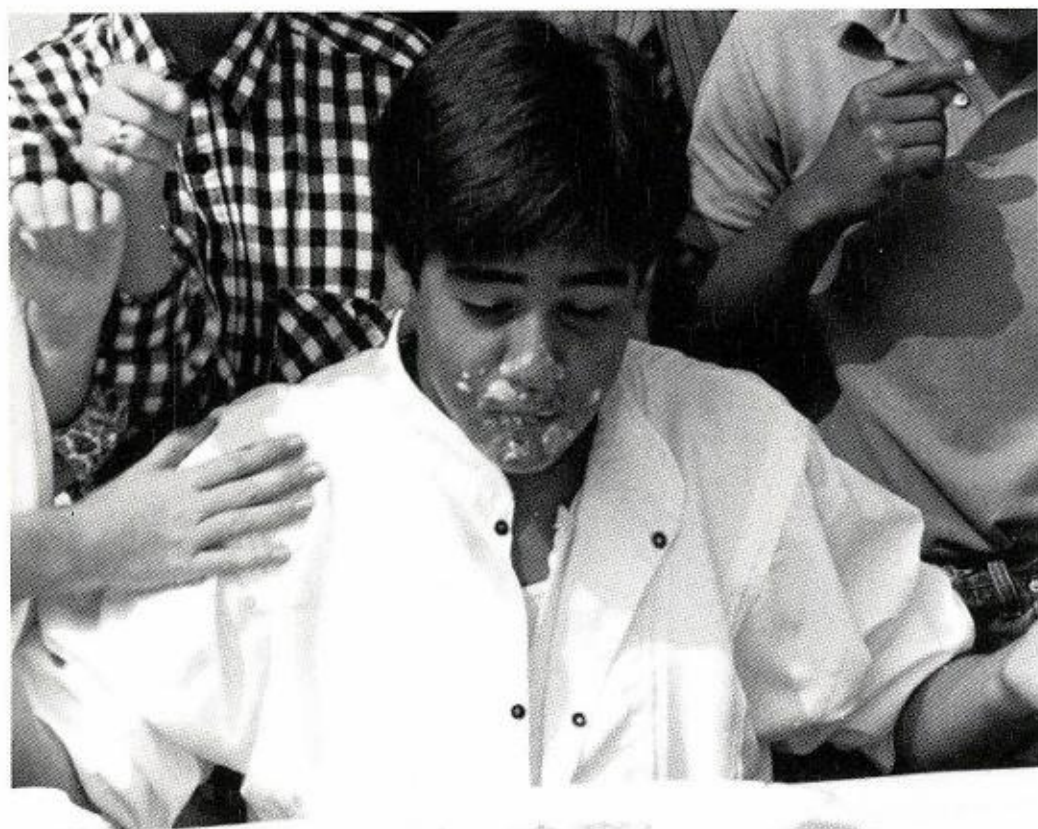

On January 28, the five men, two women space crew, died instant deaths as the shuttle was launched into space.

The team consisted of Commander, Dick Scobee; Pilot, Michael Smith; Judith Resnik, an electrical engineer; Ronald McNair, a physicist; Ellison Onizuka, an aerospace engineer; Gregory Jarvis, an electrical engineer; and Christa McAuliffe, a school teacher.

Memorial services were held at various place throughout the country as the nation mourned the loss of the seven astronauts.

Friday Fanatics

Friday at most schools was just the end of the week, but at Etiwanda, Fridays also meant a new noon activity for the students to participate in. The Friday noon activities ranged from pie-eating contests to sleigh pulls. These activities provided a much needed rest from the usual school curriculum and excitement for the students. Sophomore Tracy Bellon described it, "Friday noon activities end the week with a Bang!" Friday noon activities, which were started the year before, became a well liked tradition that other E.H.S. students will enjoy in the future.

Freshmen

Freshmen

To make Freshmen welcome in their first year of high school, Cabinet, David Zepeda, President, Kelly Walsh, Vice President, and Heidi Russell, Secretary/Treasurer, tried to create a desire for involvement.

They were in charge of getting and decorating cars for Homecoming half-time and The Valentine's Stag Dance.

The cabinet tried to raise enough money to give next year's cabinet a better start.

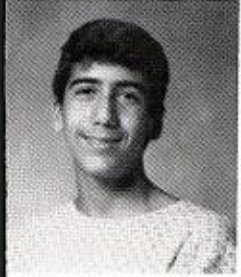

David Zepeda stated, "I felt that I've been learning how to become more responsible than I ever have been before, I've learned how this school runs and what it will take to run it in the future."

Friend or Enemy

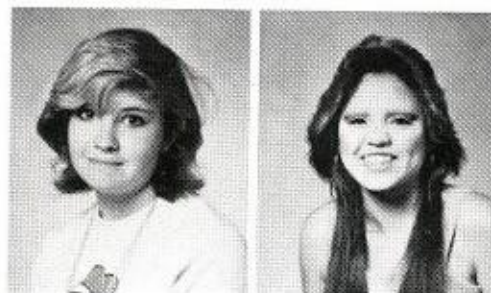

All Freshmen were required to take physical education. Most of them didn't mind P.E., but there were always a few who complained.

Most Freshmen viewed it like junior high P.E. They participated in soccer, volleyball, basketball, softball, hockey, badminton, football, and track-n-field. Most couldn't agree on which sport they liked better. Stefanie Metzler really enjoyed playing badminton. Others just made excuses so they wouldn't have to participate in P.E.

Katie Meeks can't believe anyone can be out in this Etiwanda wind.

Hard Labor

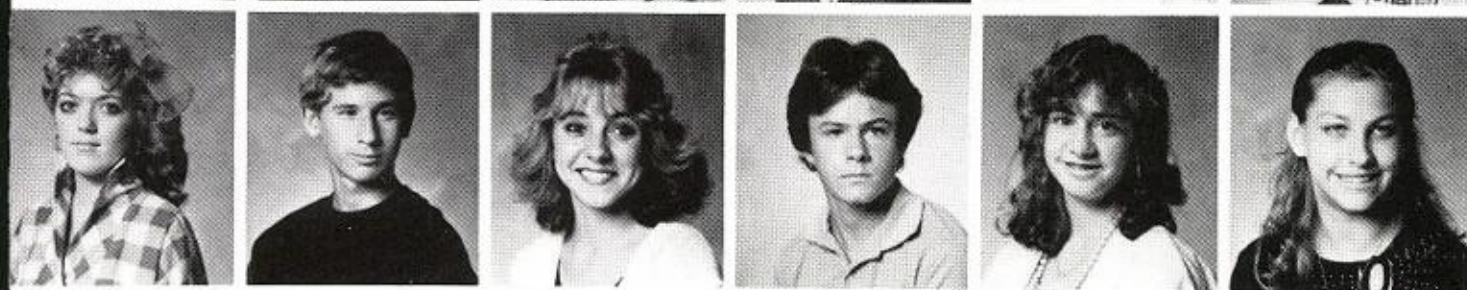

As soon as one becomes a Freshman in high school the work began. Freshman looked forward to four years of English, four years of math, a year of world history, social studies, U.S. history, government, economics, and two years of science. Most, if lucky, had homework in only two classes. Often it felt like all teachers piled homework on all in one night. Freshmen were required to take six classes, which some felt wasn't fair. Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores were required to have 200 credits to graduate while Freshmen needed 230.

Sophomores

Etiwanda had a reason to be proud of the Sophomore class. Early in the year they held a stag dance with a record-breaking attendance. They showed school spirit by selling balloons at the football games and holiday spirit by sponsoring "Candy Cane Grams." None of this would have been possible without the outstanding Sophomore Cabinet. The Cabinet consisted of President Tracy Holston; Vice President Shannon Vantor; Secretary Tom Wight, and Treasurer Kim Callaway. The cabinet and their advisor, Laura Brouse, worked hard to make the year such a success. President Tracy Holston summed it up by saying, "The willingness of the Sophomore Class to get involved in Sophomore activities helped to make my term as Class President very rewarding."

Excuses

Sophomores had some pretty strange excuses for things when they were in their freshman year. They spent a lot of time thinking up excuses for why they didn't have their P.E. clothes, books, homework, and many other things. One of the things they needed an excuse for the most was being tardy. John Brennar used, "I didn't bring my books because they got locked in the trunk of my dad's car." Tina Dorman gave the excuse, "My mom was supposed to bring me to school, but she didn't, so I had to walk. That's why I'm late."

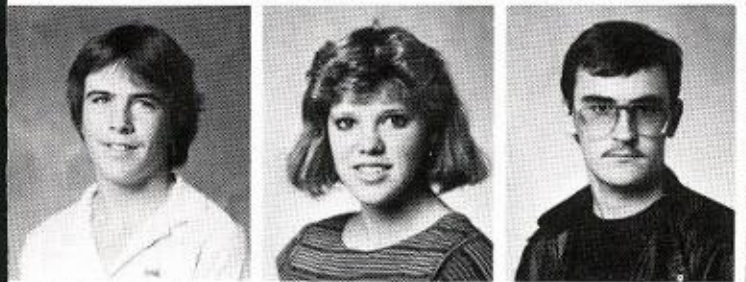

After having all that experience making up excuses, the Freshmen turned into Sophomores who made even more!

Alive

The sophomores really lived it up at the first homecoming game. They showed everyone how much spirit they had. Having just as much fun as anyone else, they cheered in the parade at halftime. Approximately fifteen students piled in the back of a decorated truck.

Etiwanda sophomores were very spirited when it came to cheering on all sports. All this effort demonstrated sophomores were alive with spirit.

Expensive Tradition

Sophomores couldn't wait to purchase class rings. Shannon Vantor and Kristi Haworth had fun choosing rings. Many students were seen wearing class rings on the Etiwanda campus, a symbol of school tradition, but they were also very expensive. Ranging from one hundred dollars to about two hundred and fifty dollars, there were many styles to choose from, and students were always happy when they received theirs. Many students would wear their rings for years after graduation.

Quick Help

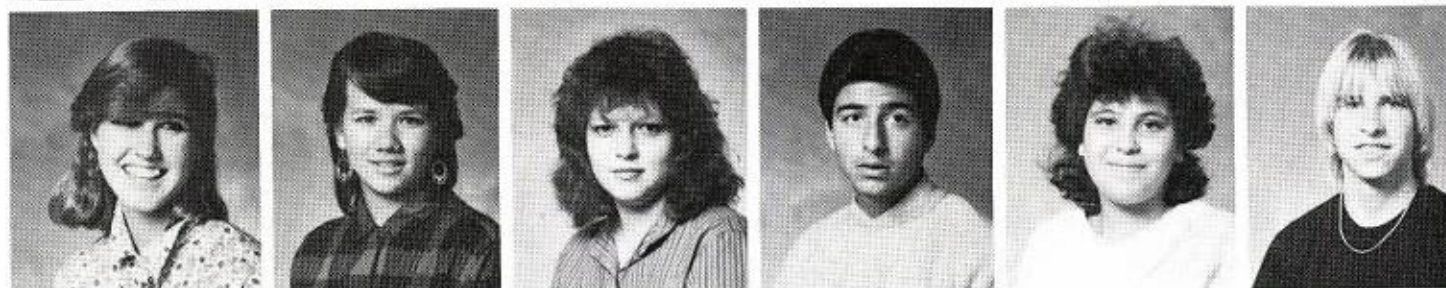

The student store was run by students in A.S.B. and managed by Mrs. Joyce Carlson. It sold everything from P.E. clothes to pens and pencils. No matter what time you went into the store, you would always find a line. Many teachers also used the student store. The student store was great to have on campus for last minute things needed for classes.

Active Class

The Junior class played an important part in the year at E.H.S. They sponsored a candy, jerky, and pepperoni sale. They also helped plan the King's Ball and the Junior-Senior Prom. The enthusiastic Junior class also did E.H.S.'s first Homecoming half-time. Nancy Kettle and Sandra Mayo were the advisors. President, Jeanine Cota; Vice President, Sandee Troutman and Secretary/Treasurer, Laura Muna have been active in making the year so memorable. President Jeanine Cota concluded, "As Junior Class President, I wanted to encourage all students to be involved in every activity. If I could talk to each person, I would tell them of the benefits of unity, and that no matter what social group or class people belong to, everyone can make a difference."

First Class

The class of 1987 was striving to become the best. They were the first graduating class that attended E.H.S. all four years. This made them proud. Andrea Schroeder commented, "I am proud to be in a graduating class with so many great friends. As long as Etiwanda High School goes on, we will always be the first 'real' graduating class." They did a lot to promote the school not only in school spirit, but also in candy sales, class competitions, and even keeping the campus clean. As Paul Lowe exclaimed, "I feel like this is a class of good spirit and a class of great pride for themselves and the school."

Tops in Spirit

The Juniors, the first class who attended Etiwanda all four years, has become more active in school spirit. They showed this spirit because they tried to win all of the class competition's at the rallies, and they sponsored many activities including the Homecoming half-time. Chandra Anderson related, "We are the first four year graduating class; we are more spirited". "We are enthusiastic," commented Ursula Kleinecke. The Juniors were certainly the most spirited of the four classes.

D.A.D.

Drinking and driving was against the law, but many people did it. Many innocent people died everyday because of other people drinking and driving. In response, many teenagers were making deals with their parents that if they drank too much at a party, they would call their parents to come and pick them up with no questions asked. Most parents at Etiwanda felt this offered a reasonable alternative to drunk driving.

Nancy Reagan stated, "We, as a team, have to work together to cross that goal line to win against drunk driving."

Senior Expenses

Money, money, money ... a necessary commodity for all seniors left many seniors broke, but happy as the many opportunities arose for senior "necessities."

Senior pictures cost more than one might expect — well over a hundred dollars.

Shannon Luman stated, "It's a lot of money, but it's worth it because we are only seniors once."

Senior caps and gowns were another expense. The cost for that came to about fifteen dollars. The senior prom was another thing they had to pay for with tickets costing about forty dollars. Pictures at the prom ran approximately thirty to thirty-five dollars. That didn't include a tux or the dress. Claire Kemmer expressed, "Senior expenses are outrageous." The prices were not cheap for anyone, but the "green stuff" provided a means to experience a memorable senior year.

Senior Cabinet

What was the Senior Class Cabinet? They represented the whole senior class. They also concentrated on making the year extra special by organizing unique and enjoyable events that brought about school spirit.

The Senior Class Cabinet consisted of Gilda Morales, President; Mary Tellez-Giron, Vice President; Michelle Kragjacic, Secretary/Treasurer.

As a part of A.S.B., they sponsored candy sales and stag dances. The Homecoming Dance, Senior Raffle, Valentine "Balloon-a-gram," Senior Breakfast, and the Graduation Ceremony were additional class activities.

"Being President of the Senior Class was a responsible position. It required plenty of work and support from others. With the help of those people, the Homecoming was a success. I couldn't have done it without them."

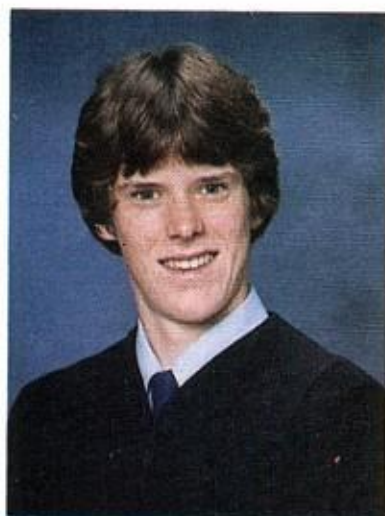

— Gilda Morales

"Being Senior Vice President, made this year most memorable since I helped in creating school spirit by putting together school activities and events. I would just like to wish this year's graduating class all the best for the future."

Senior Spirit

Seniors brought out the spirit in everyone at the pep rallies. No matter where anyone sat, they could always hear seniors cheering and having a great time. Jane Thomas stated, "The guys sounded so funny trying to sound like the girls." Lorraine Aguilar expressed, "Seniors show a lot of support to their school. I think underclassmen should look up to them."

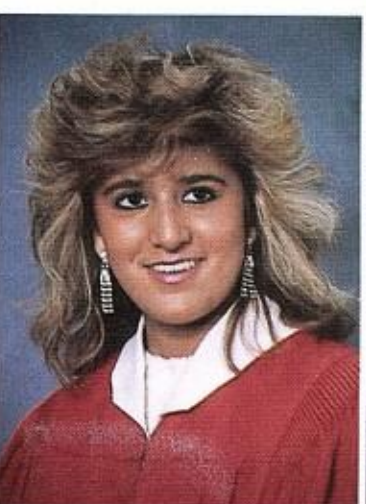

Seniors went all out when there was a class competition. The seniors showed a lot of enthusiasm when they had to participate in rally events. Let's face it, without seniors to make things fun, life just wouldn't have been the same at Etiwanda High School.

VALEDICTORIAN

Leslie Trujillo earned the highest GPA in her senior class to be named class Valedictorian. She said she felt privileged to perform the honors at graduation. She commented, "I hope that I can convey the sentiments of the entire senior class."

She was Vice President of the Sophomore class and was on the Varsity Softball team. Leslie played the flute for the EHS-MER her sophomore and junior year. She also was in the Spanish and Ski club. As a Senior she was Social Chairperson in A.S.B.

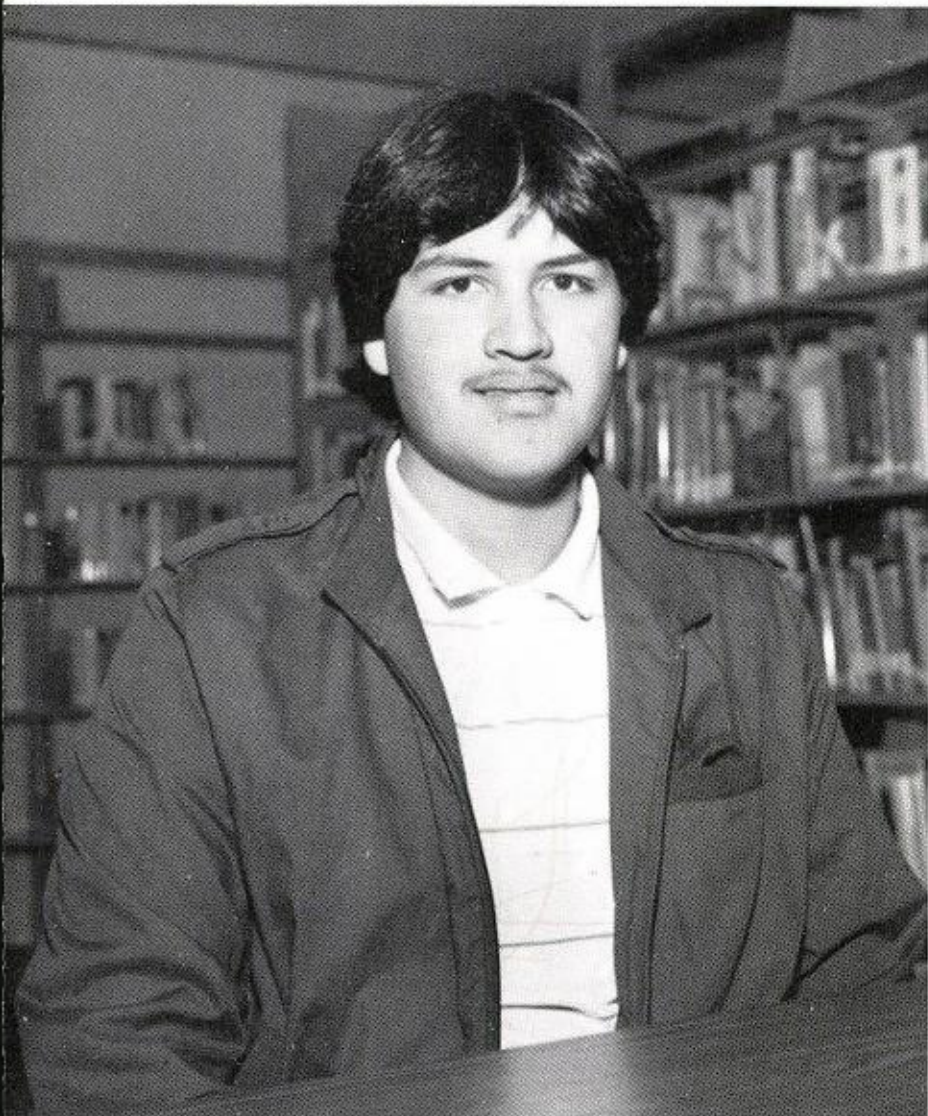

Leslie's outside involvement included spending time with her family and watching motorcycle racing. She planned to graduate from Pepperdine and pursue a career in business.

SALUTATORIAN

Jesus Berdeja was selected as the Salutatorian. His reaction was, "Very excited . . . wasn't really expecting it . . . very honored." The achievement was another in a long list of high school accomplishments. Jesus had perfect attendance, and had been in C.S.F. each semester.

Outside of school Jesus was involved in the Math Field Day and went to U.C. Davis for a week in August 1985. Jesus is looking forward to an interesting future. He plans to go to college and major in Biochemistry.

Striving Toward Victory

Varsity football had an excellent season compared to their earlier years. There were thirty-three students picked for the team. Fourteen of them were returning.

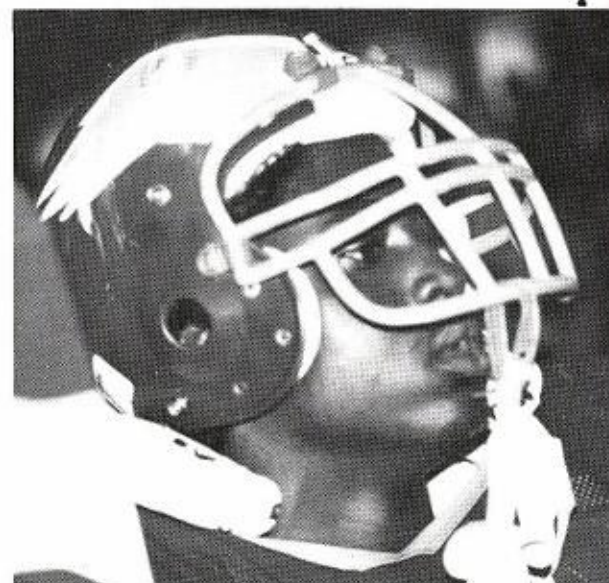

Although they did not make it to CIF, they hoped to in future years. However, much could be said about the many improvements this team exhibited this season. This team was very enthusiastic and willing to help out in any way. Coach Johnson explained, "We have the experience and knowledge. The team had a great year." Head Coach, Larry Tisdale felt the team had an excellent season. Etiwanda High School was very proud of the teams success.

Comeback Ability Gains Third

Junior Varsity Football finished third in the league. According to coach Tim Ritter, the greatest strength was, "their ability to deal with being in a tough situation and coming back with the win." The team's unique personality was another good point. It didn't need constant encouragement to get out and play well.

Thirty-one Make Cut

The Cross Country team had a basically good season. Most of the runners ran all summer, which helped them out quite a bit. There were fifty-one students who tried out; however, only thirty-one were chosen. Mr. Steve Sullivant was the coach, and Eileen Burr and Robert Rodriguez were team captains. Assistant captains were Henry Hayes and Tracy Collins. Coach Sullivant added, "Our teams from now on will only run against quality teams. We need the competition."

Junior Varsity Volleyball had a fair season with their six wins and eight losses in the league. The girls were very dedicated, and energetic, cheering at the games. They were proud to be a part of Etiwanda High School. They gave their best for the season by working hard and learning a lot of new techniques. Some of these were: controlling the ball, having accurate passing, and learning to spike the ball well. They concentrated on team work.

Eagles Hit the Season With a Smash gooooo I know it's not a great feat, but I'm so glad they became champions! Hope we win many more!

This year was a smash year for the Etiwanda Eagles' girls' tennis team. The team improved from seventh place to fourth place. Kamna Dhoka, one of the seniors on the team, stated, "I felt really good about the team. I think we showed a lot of improvements as a team and as individuals." Cheryl Robbins of the doubles team mentioned, "Tennis is a fun game but it takes a lot of skill, strategy, and concentration at the same time." The team did not lose any preseason games and defeated four of the seven schools during the season. The Eagles defeated Ganesha, Chino, Ontario, and Garey. Coach Lani Felberg remarked, "The students have the desire and enthusiasm to do their best." The most valuable single player of the year was Kiran Dhoka, the number one doubles were Cheryl Robbins and Dadhri Keane.

4. Beating her opponent 40-15, Kiran Dhoka smashes the ball and wins the game.

5. Number one double, Cheryl Robbins and Dadhri Keane, are ready to face any opposition.

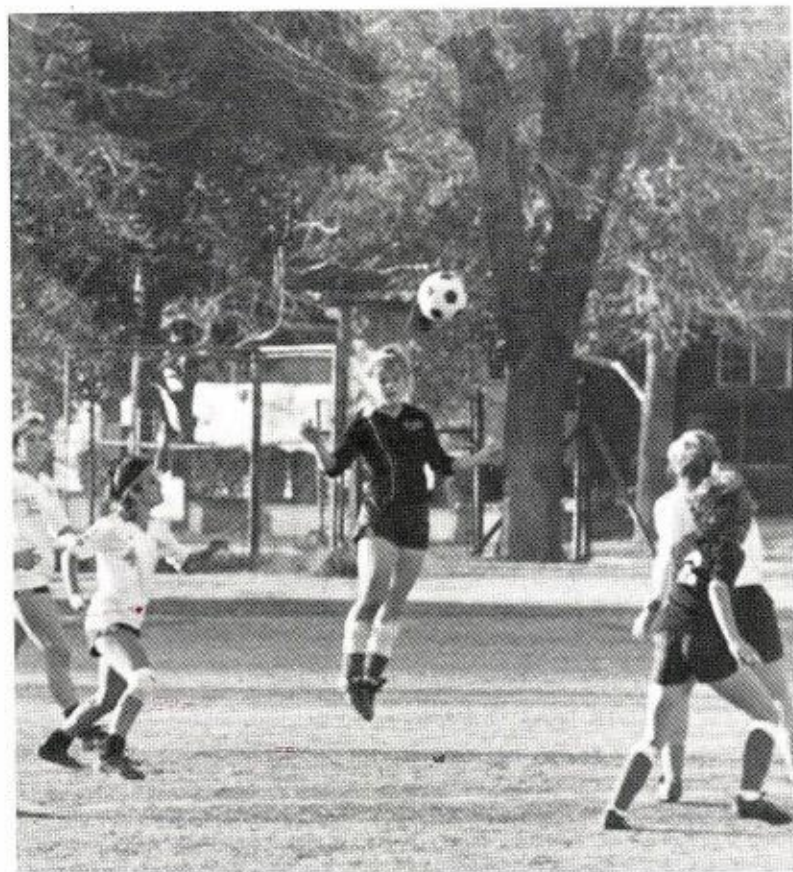

P.M.A. Highlights Season

For the first year in the league, Coach Lyn Russell did a great job. The highlights of the season were marked by, "Teaching the team the PMA (Positive Mental Attitude)," she noted. The teams biggest strength was the overall willingness to learn. The lack of defense was their weak spot.

New Concepts Mastered

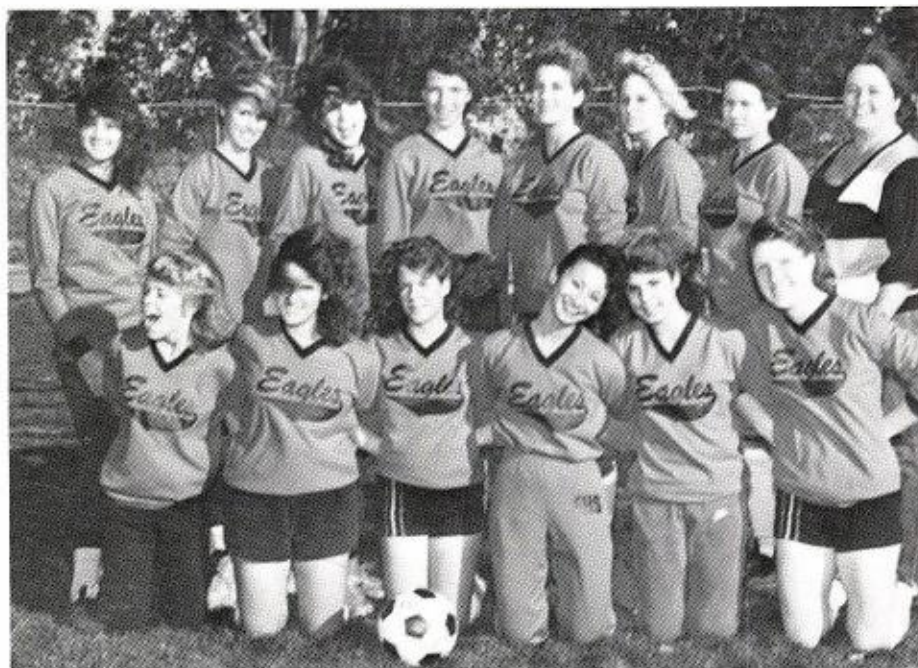

The Girls' Junior Varsity Soccer team had twenty members. The team was enthusiastic and spirited. "Their greatest strength was their ability to accept new concepts," commented Coach Deb Hargrove. The Captain was Tina Adams and the Alternate Captain was Shannon Wood. For the first time soccer had a fund raiser, "Kick for Distance," which went over very well.

The Heart of the Kick

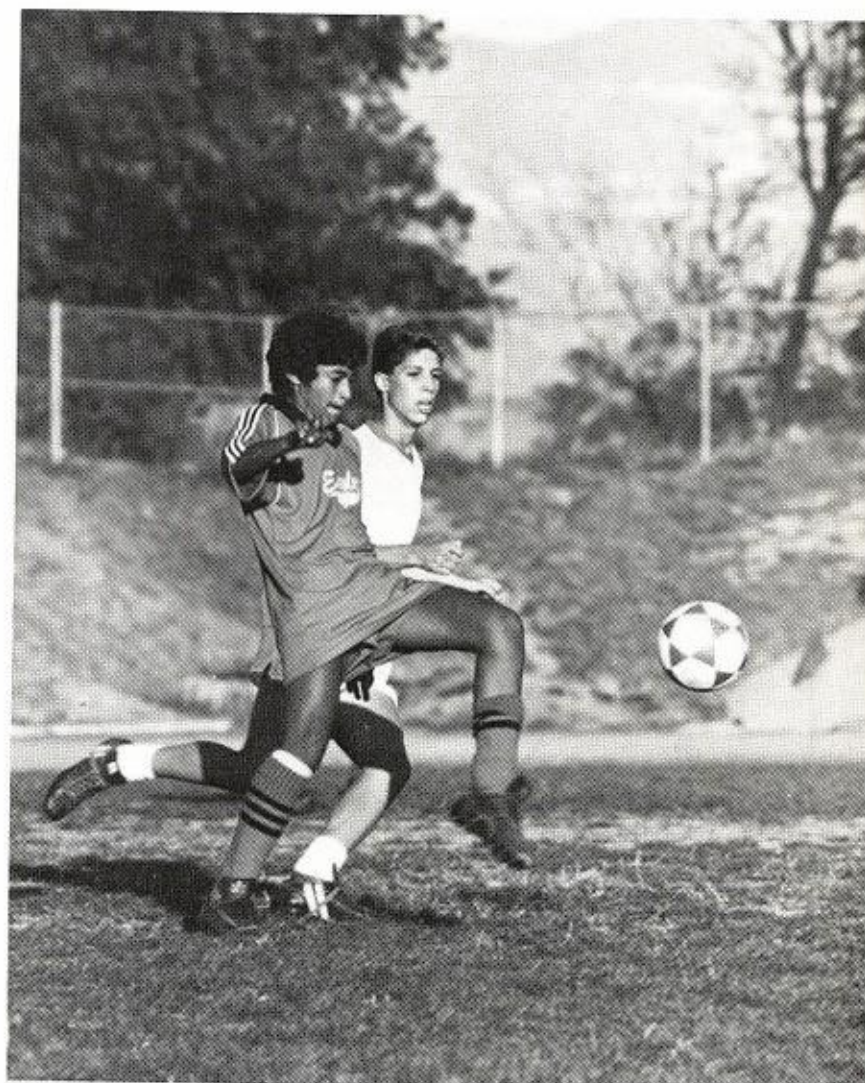

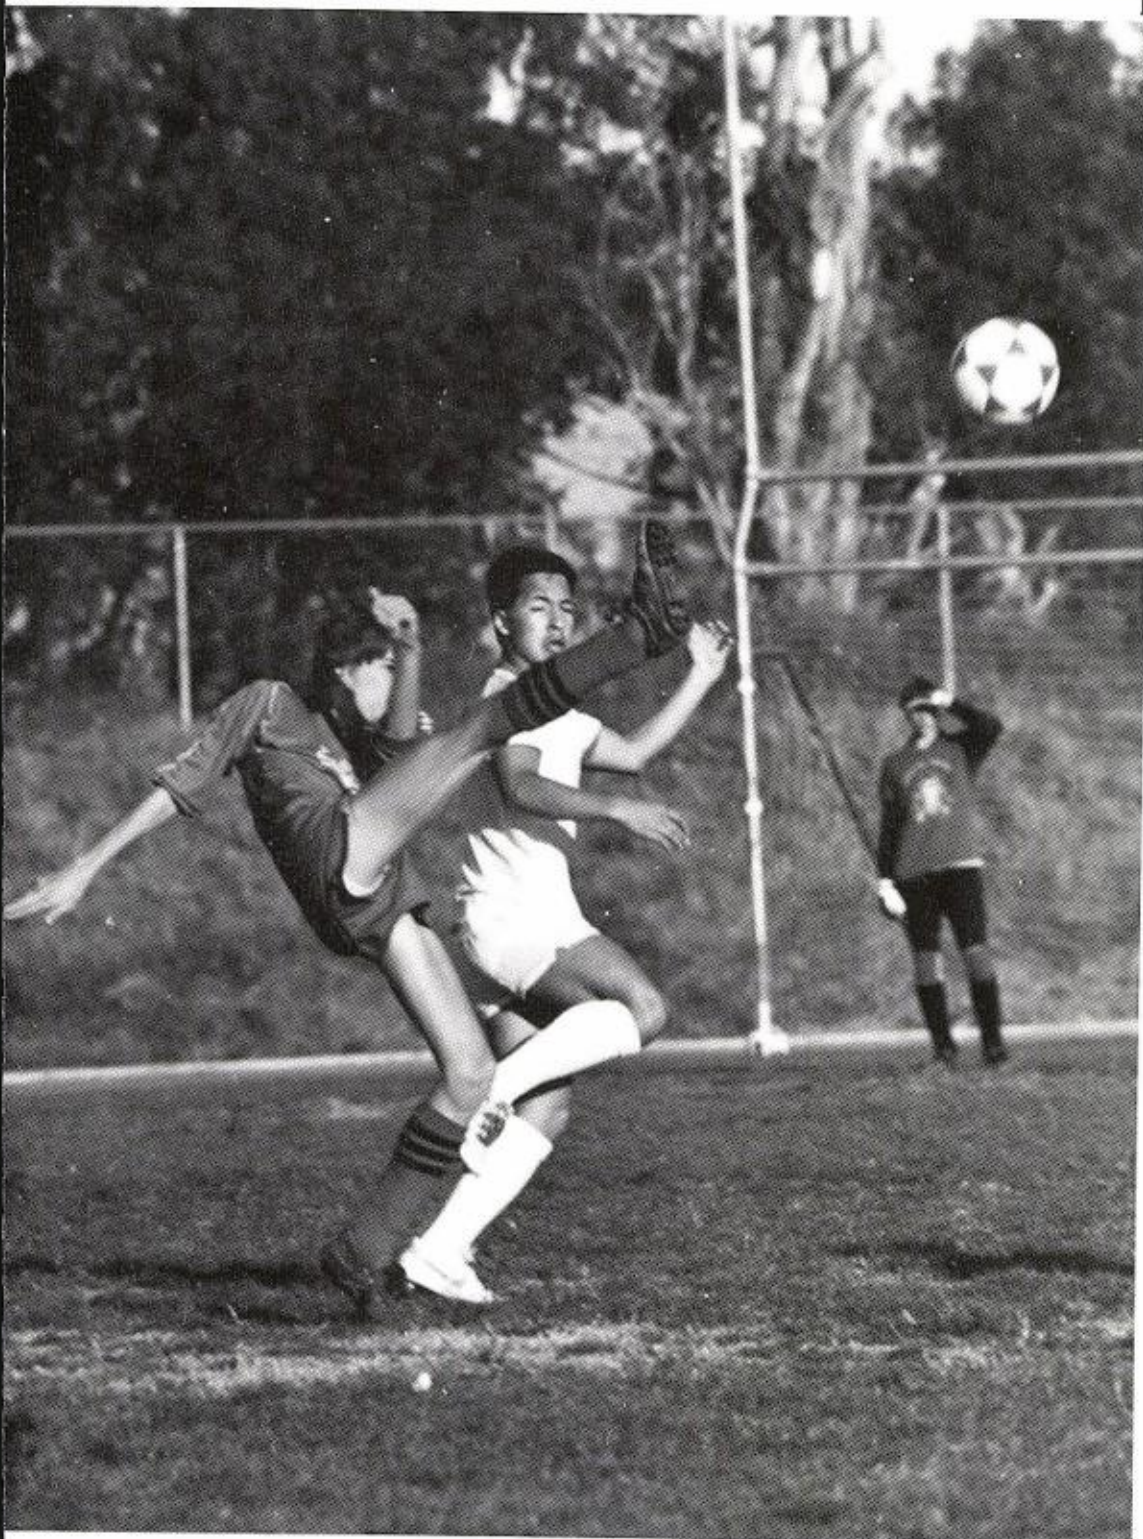

Out of 44 students that tried out, 13 were chosen to make the 1985-86 Boys' Junior Varsity Soccer team. Some valuable leaders were Juniors Ray Bender (Offense Captain), Dennis Hoth (Defense Captain), and Brad Huber (Team Manager).

Coach Steve Cano had a lot to say about the team's strengths and weaknesses. Personal skills, unity, and most important "heart," were the things he described as the team strengths, but he admitted that diet was their greatest weakness.

1. Front row: Nick Erro, Brian Ruff, Steve Eountian, Mike Murphy, Rene Trijillo, Darin Felberg, Cliff Porter, Tomas Tanishita. Back row: Nick Weaver, Sione Bloomfield, Tom Wight, Dennis Hoth, Shawn Holt, Adrian Hinojos, David Cano, Eric Dick, Raymond Bender.

2. A high kicking Eagle, Tom Wight, sends the ball soaring toward the goal.

3. David Cano, blocks his opponent and goes for the ball.

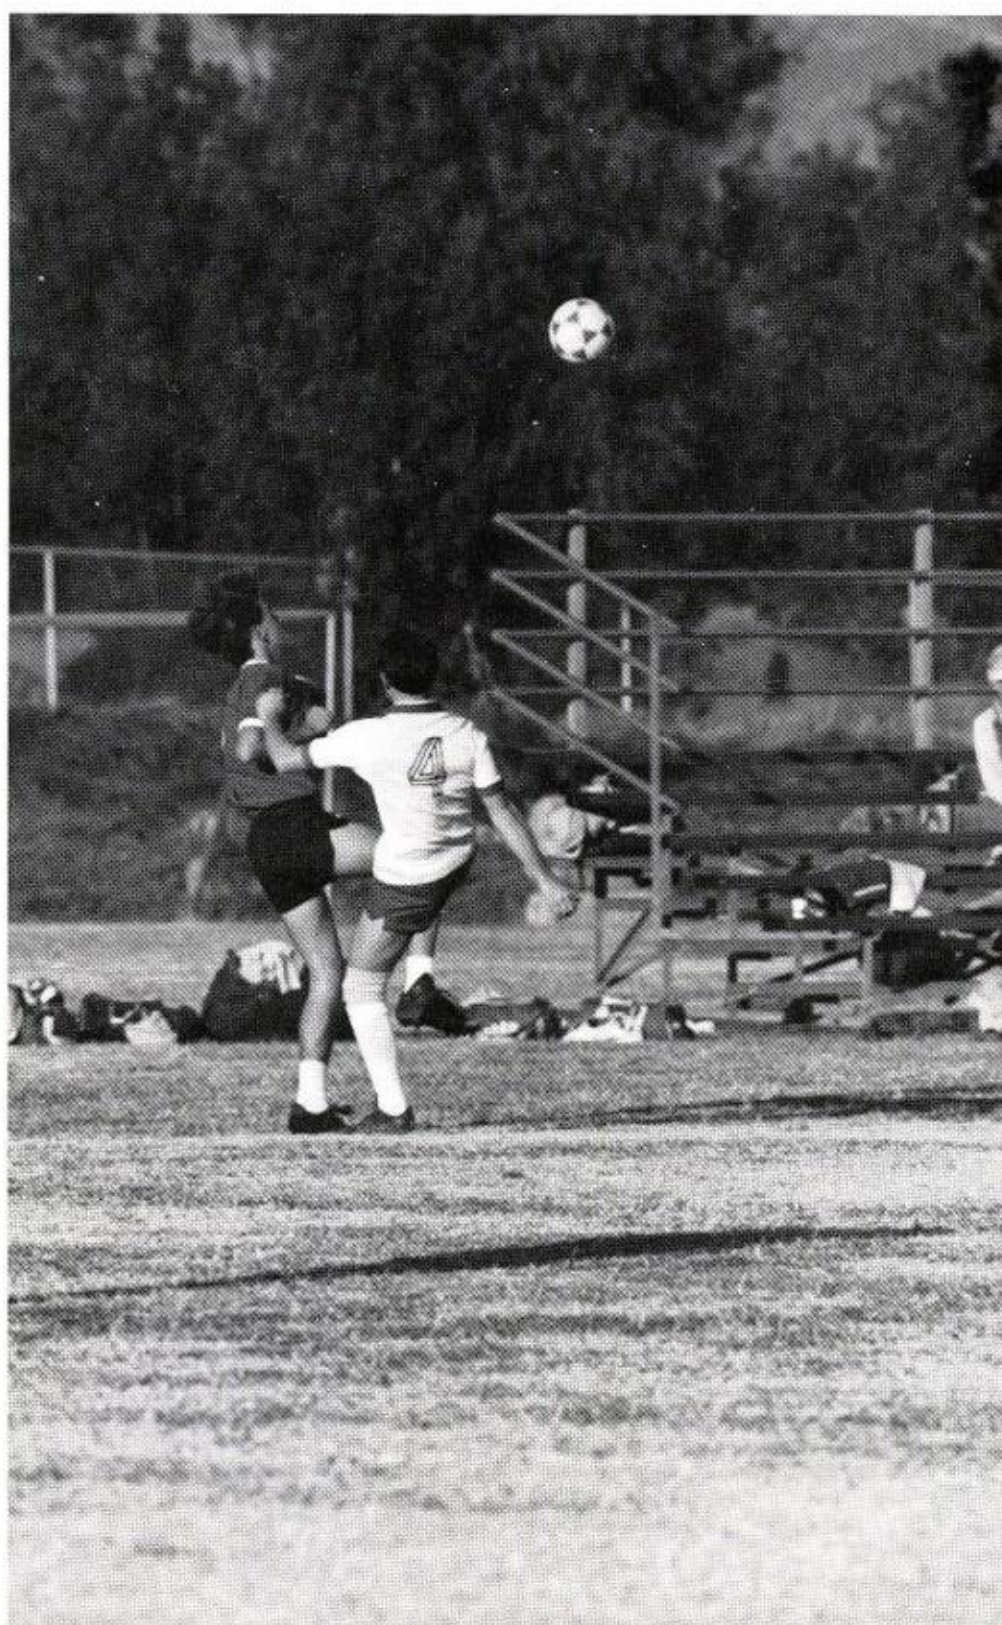

Strength in Strong Defense

Boys' Varsity Soccer team had 32 students try out with 12 returning members, 6 of them lettermen. Captains for the team were seniors, Jorge Cabrera and Greg Johnson. Coach Art Anthonijsz explained "Their greatest strength was the defense." Billy Salazar commented, "The defense, Eric Farmer, Greg Johnson, Bill Dauria, and Rob Matteios are outstanding." The guys all worked well together to produce a fine team.

1. Bing Kongmebhol watches for a chance to pass the ball.
2. Goal keeper Wes Dacko demonstrates the difficulty of being a goalie.

Eagles Wrestle to Improve

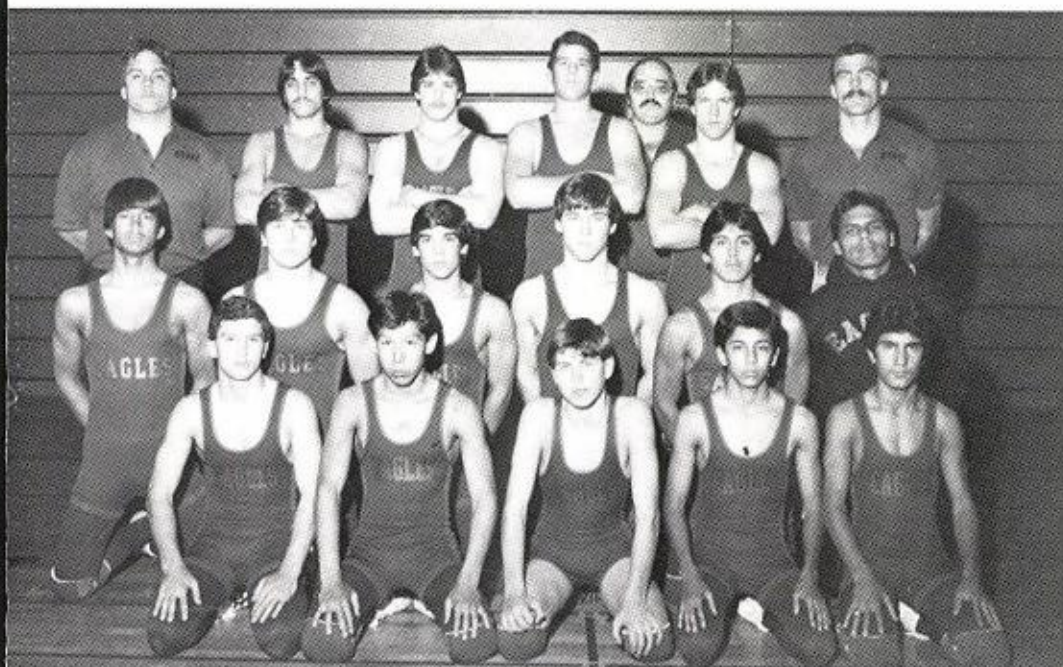

Forty students tried out for the Varsity Wrestling team, but only thirteen members wrestled their way to build up a strong team for E.H.S. Coach John Everard felt that the team's greatest strength was, "Their depth in the upper weights." The best wrestlers were Jason Mahar and Brian Hill. At one point Hill was rated fourth in the Inland Valley.

According to assistant coach Greg Vaniman, "The team made a drastic improvement from last year," and they are looking for a strong team in the years to come.

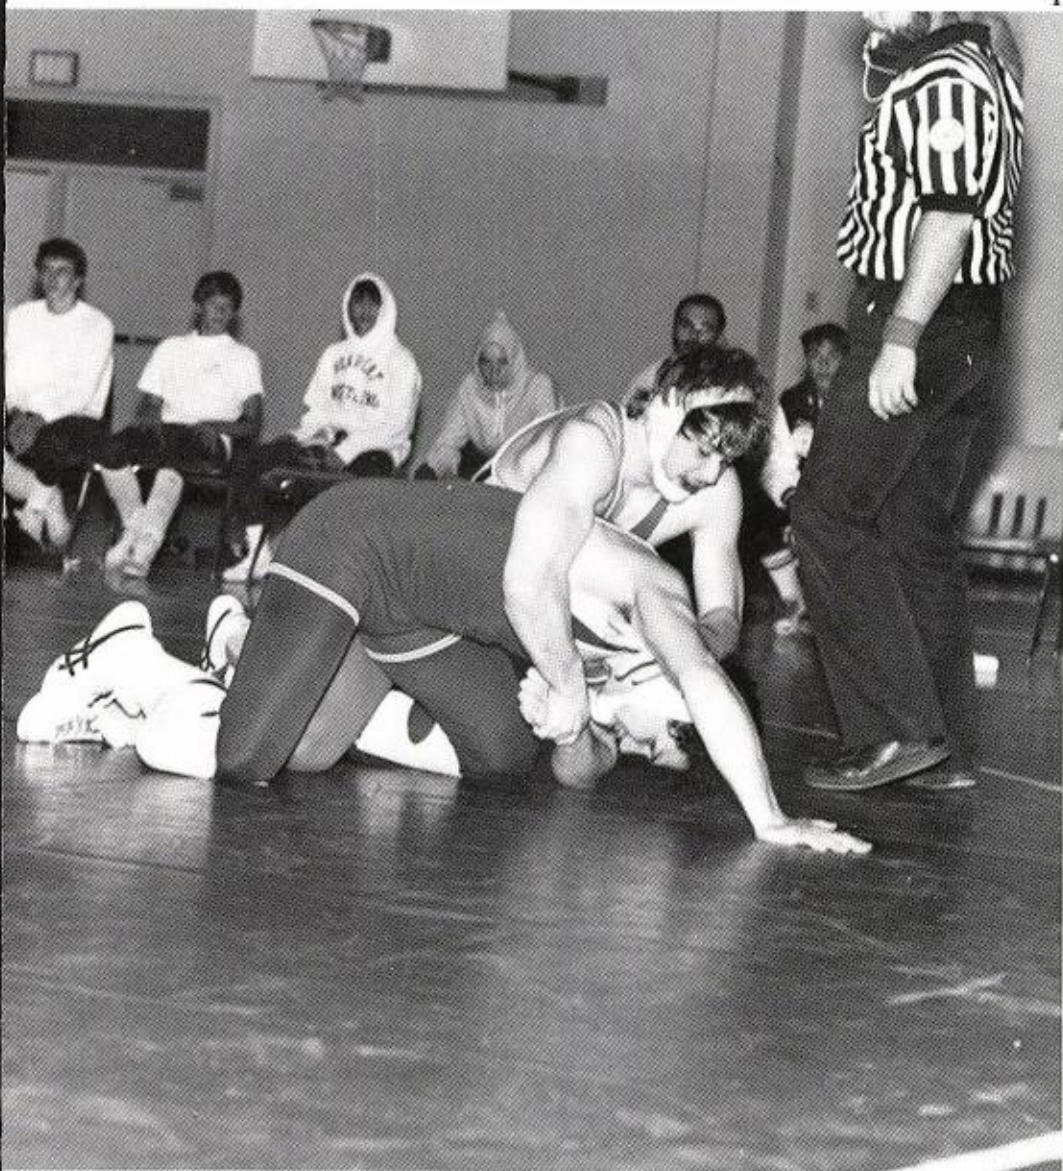

1. Reuben Arce appears confident as he goes for a pin.

2. EHS is number 1!! After an exciting victory against Montclair, the team expressed their high spirits and good sportsmanship. Coach Everard is as hyped as the team.

Everard, Tom Pitts, and Larry Cutbirth.
2. With extreme concentration, Donald Neilssien attempts a difficult move.
3. Jason Mahar surely has the upper hand, or you might say arm. He is one of Varsity's best wrestlers and also a team captain.

Hey Babe!

well you made it, right through your Freshmen year. It wasn't that tough was it! this year went by quick. 2 years to go for me, 3 for you, HAHA! I'll always be there for you if you ever need me. that's a promise. Lets have fun this summer ok!! Party time! Good luck in the future Babe.

Excitement Marks Record Year

JV Wrestling had an exciting and proud year. They beat the toughest team according to coach John Everard. He felt they should be League champions. Their record was very good and Everard felt they had a respectable team.

1. First row: Steve Byrne, Mike Raney, Tony Garcia, Joe Kohr, Art Villareal, Joe Jenkins, Paul Ayala, Casey Lack, and Tim McCreedy.
- Second row: Bill Kelley, Tony Tellez, Derrick Scanlin, Bjorn Park, Al Lopez, Steve Barnes, Reuben Gonzalez, Don Newman, and Ernie Post.

2. Steve Byrne works hard for a pin.
3. Assistant Coach Larry Cutbirth congratulates J.V. winner Mike Ayala after a match against Montclair.

Potential Triumphs Against Rivals

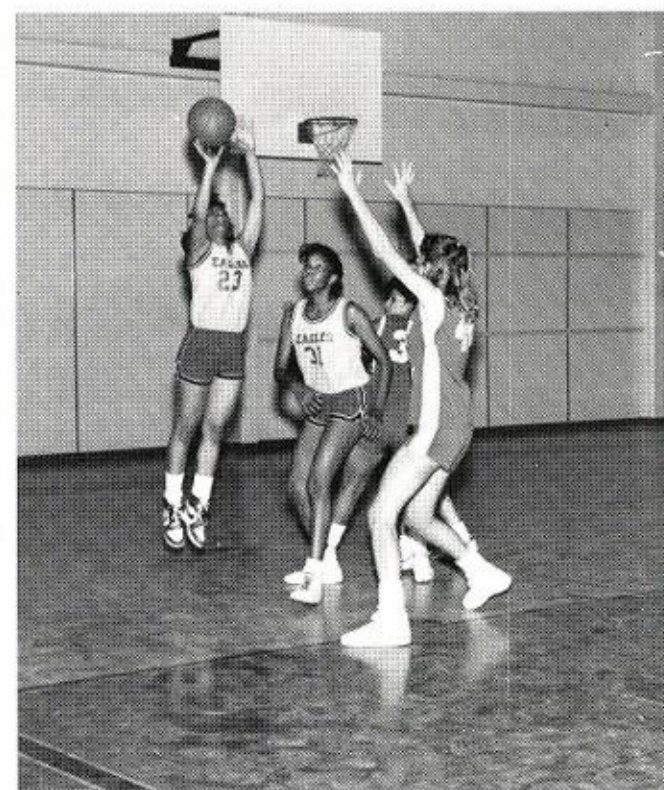

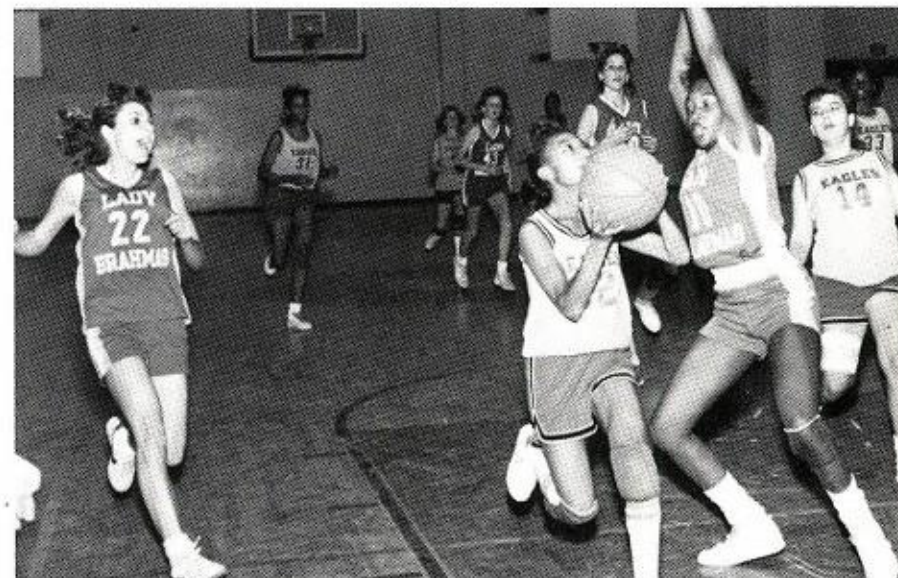

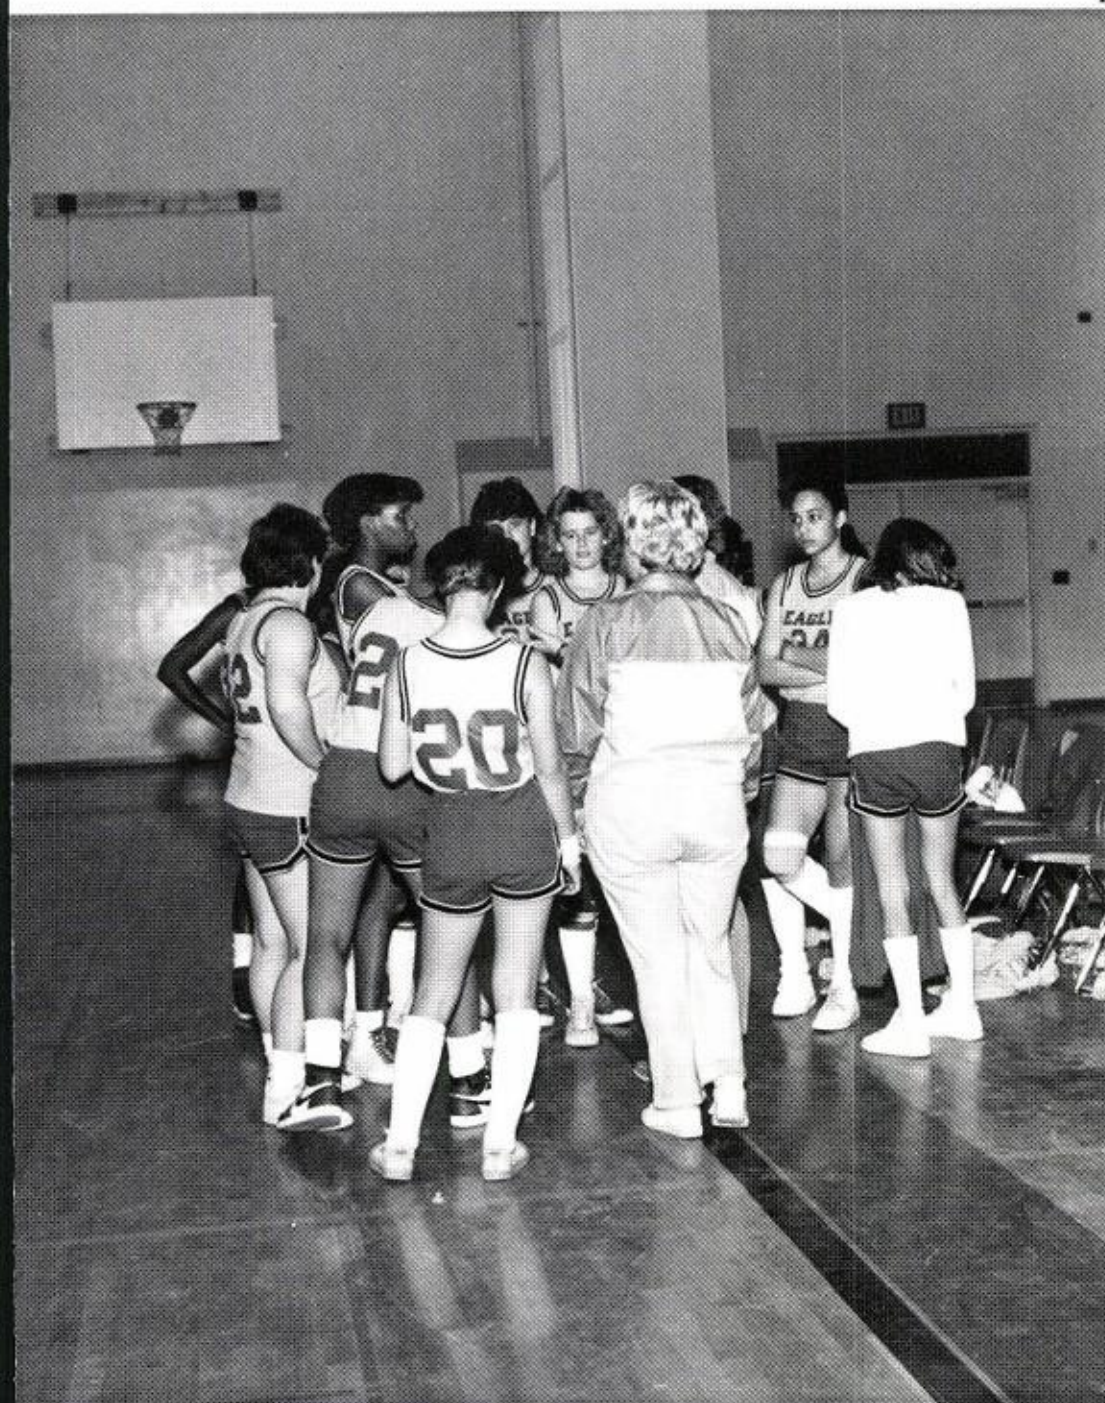

The Girls' J.V. Basketball had a successful year, according to team member Mia White, they had a lot of potential, and were a really good team. She felt their season got off to a great start.

Miss Stueland, Coach, and her assistant coach, Miss Whittaker, were involved with a team of fourteen spirited girls. Out of eighteen that tried out for the team, about fourteen were chosen.

The highlights of their season were the games against Chino and Diamond Bar.

1. Jenny Nelson, Lenita Graves, Amy Murphy, Holly Christensen, Keshia Williams, Cindy Clary, Eria Selk, Kim Tolbert, Samantha Kabobel, Margit McDonald.
2. The team gets a pep talk during half time.
3. One of the team's most valuable players, Mia White, doesn't let the height of her opponent stop her.
4. Lenita Graves shows her ability to pass with height, expressing team sportsmanship.

Basketball Defense Shines

Nan Fowler, coach of the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team, set high standards for the team. Out of thirty-five that tried out for the team, twenty-eight were chosen. Four of the members returned. Some team members felt they improved skills, such as rebounding, shooting, and passing. "I consider our team defense to be very strong," said Fowler. Lisa Jackson, one of the team members, noted, "We have a good team. People are willing to give 110% all the time regardless of injuries." To Callie Smith it was a "Tradition to play basketball." Alisa Card thought that the greatest part of the season was that the team worked together.

The captains were Callie Smith and Angela Madison. Manager was Michelle Byrd.

J.V.'s Speed Second to None

Quickness and speed were the special qualities which made the Boys' J.V. Basketball team so successful. Coach Tom Duncan felt that their lack of height was a disadvantage, but their speed certainly made up for that. He felt that they were the second fastest team in the league. Not many teams pressed them because of it.

Coach Duncan felt that the team had a good attitude and had a lot of spirit, but the short number of members in the team made practice hard. Approximately fifteen students tried out for the team, but they ended up with nine members.

Coach Duncan felt the highlights of the season were the games against Garey and Diamond Bar.

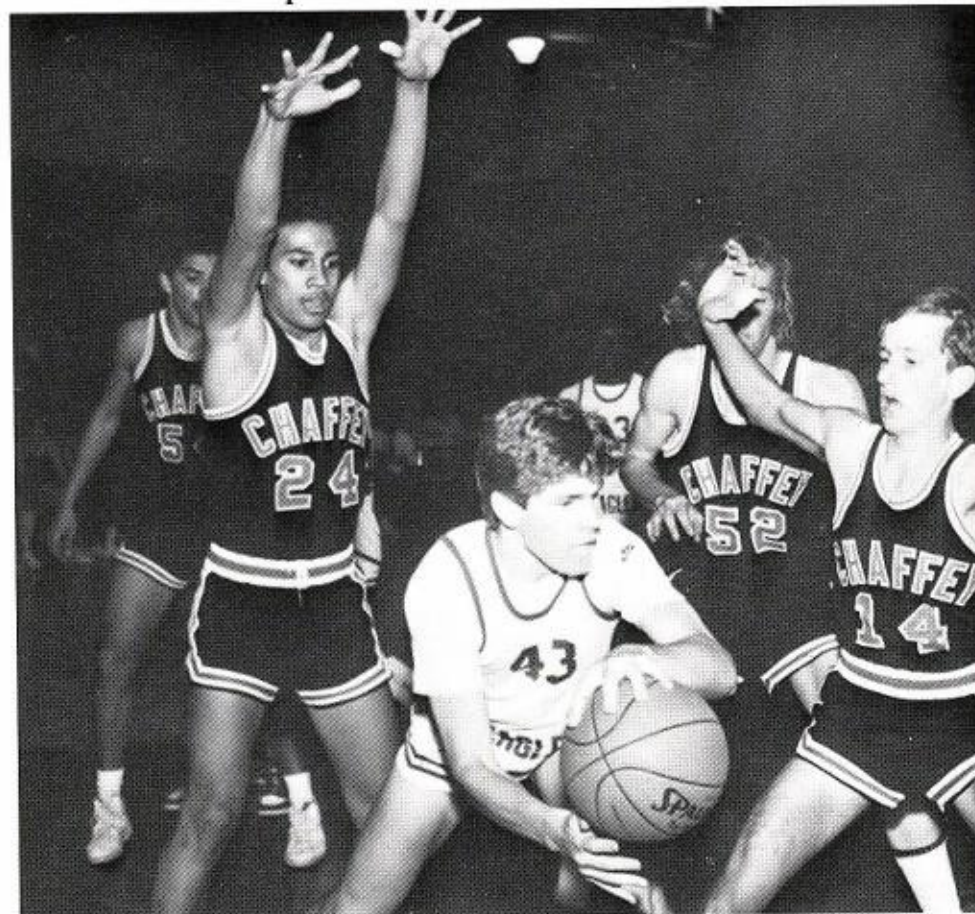

Team captains were Martell Willis, and Fred Wright.

4. Team spirit is what it takes! Greg Morrow passes to a team member who's waiting to score!

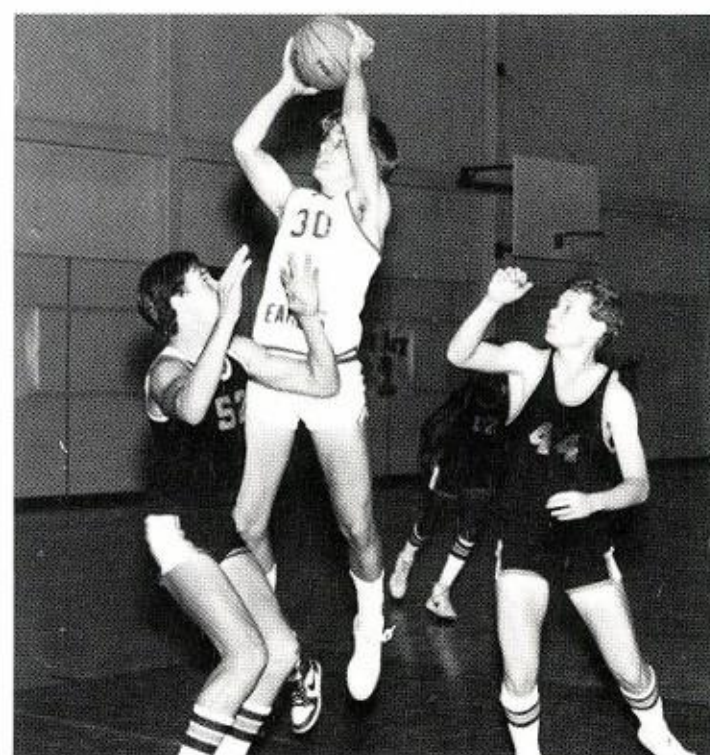

Through the Hoop With Speed

Coach Bill Behrens related, "The Boys' Freshman Basketball team had a good year. They had a lot of team spirit and good sportsmanship." These qualities made their team successful.

Their strengths seemed to be their ability and speed. According to coach Behrens, they had no weaknesses.

Out of thirty-five that tried out for the team, twelve members were recognized. Behrens stated, "It's exciting to see how they progress."

1. Front row: Jefferson Drexler, Marlo Hernandez, Ricky Alonzo, Gustavo Beredja, Anthony Greco. Back row: Brett Hempy, Walter Montgomery, John Adams, Robert Hayden, Jacques Edwards, George Monge, Coach Bill Behrens.

2. Ricky Alonzo jumps to score, while the rest of the Eagles await anxiously to see if he made the shot.

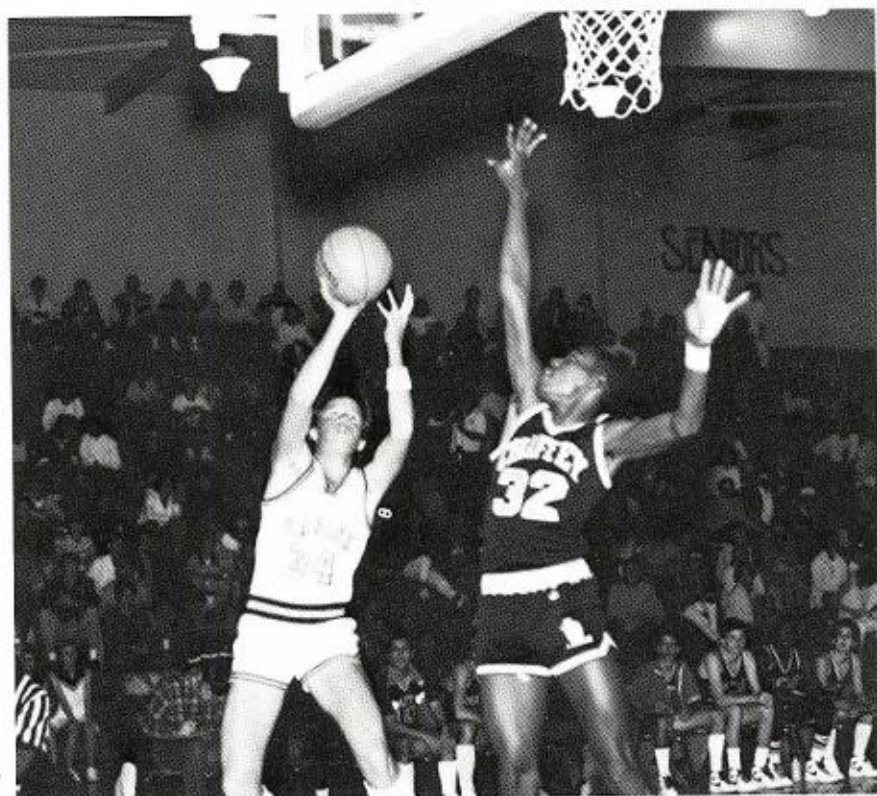

3. John Adams makes a swift jump to score.

Rebounding and Running Rank Team

The Varsity Basketball team had a terrific year. They were in second place in the league by mid-season with a 4-2 record. The team's strong points included tough rebounding and a good running game. Senior Tony Cichella felt that, "We have a lot of good players this year, and the biggest difference is that we are playing as a team." "Fast breaking and all around talent," were the things that Senior Rick Cota found to be the team's greatest strengths.

1. Barry Howard jumps for the ball to throw to his teammate.
2. Mike Watson succeeds in shooting the ball past a Chaffey opponent.
3. Walter Hawthorne steals the ball from his opponent and goes for the basket himself.

Eagles Soar to C.I.F.

The year in sports was great. As our teams showed much improvement: Varsity Football, Girls' Varsity Basketball, and Girls' Varsity Volleyball were very close to going to the playoffs.

Boys' Varsity Basketball, under Coach Evans, was one of the teams to go. Coach John Everard and his Varsity Wrestling were also able to attend the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) playoffs.

1. David Shrank goes for the pin while the referee keeps a close eye on the action.
2. Although Hesperia was a competitive opponent Anthony Haddrick confidently shows strength in his position.
3. Donna Flin bumps the ball back to an outstretched defender while Kristy Fritz backs up her teammate.
4. Dion Tolbert shows his competitive and experienced nature during a game against Bonita.

Catch the Feeling

Girls' J.V. Softball team caught the feeling for a winning season in '86. It was the teams' third successful year at EHS. "I think our team had the ability to take first place with help from our coach, Wayne Lorrett," stated left fielder Brooke Jacobson. The starting players were: catcher, Wendy Engle, Pitcher, Heather Lotz; First Base, Teena Deering; Second Base, Yvonne Thacker; Short Stop, Joanne Solorio; Right Field, Angela Laughlin; Center Field, Mary Ireland, Left Field, Brooke Jacobson.

2. Kim Higgins pitches a fast one.

3. Etiwanda Girls' J.V. softball takes a break.

Experience Breeds Enthusiasm

Girls' Varsity softball team improved. Mary Pollock and assistant coach, Tim Ritter, practice everyday on the softball field from 2:20 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. which improved the girls game skills.

Many of the girls had been on a softball team for many years. They felt this team was more experienced and more spirited than past teams. Working as a team, they had been more enthusiastic than working individually. However, individual skills were needed. Lisa Maciel described the team, "We look great. We have quite a bit of talent out there, and we have a great chance to win."

2. After being safe on base, Terry Johnson looks at her teammates.

Hitting With Perfection

The Freshman baseball team had a very good year in eighty-six. Their coach, Mr. Robles, was also a history teacher.

Coach Robles said that his team was a very good group of athletes that, at the beginning of the season, did not know very much about the specific rules of baseball. They were very eager to learn and to become more competitive as athletes. He also stated, "the first games were difficult, but from then on, it became a little easier."

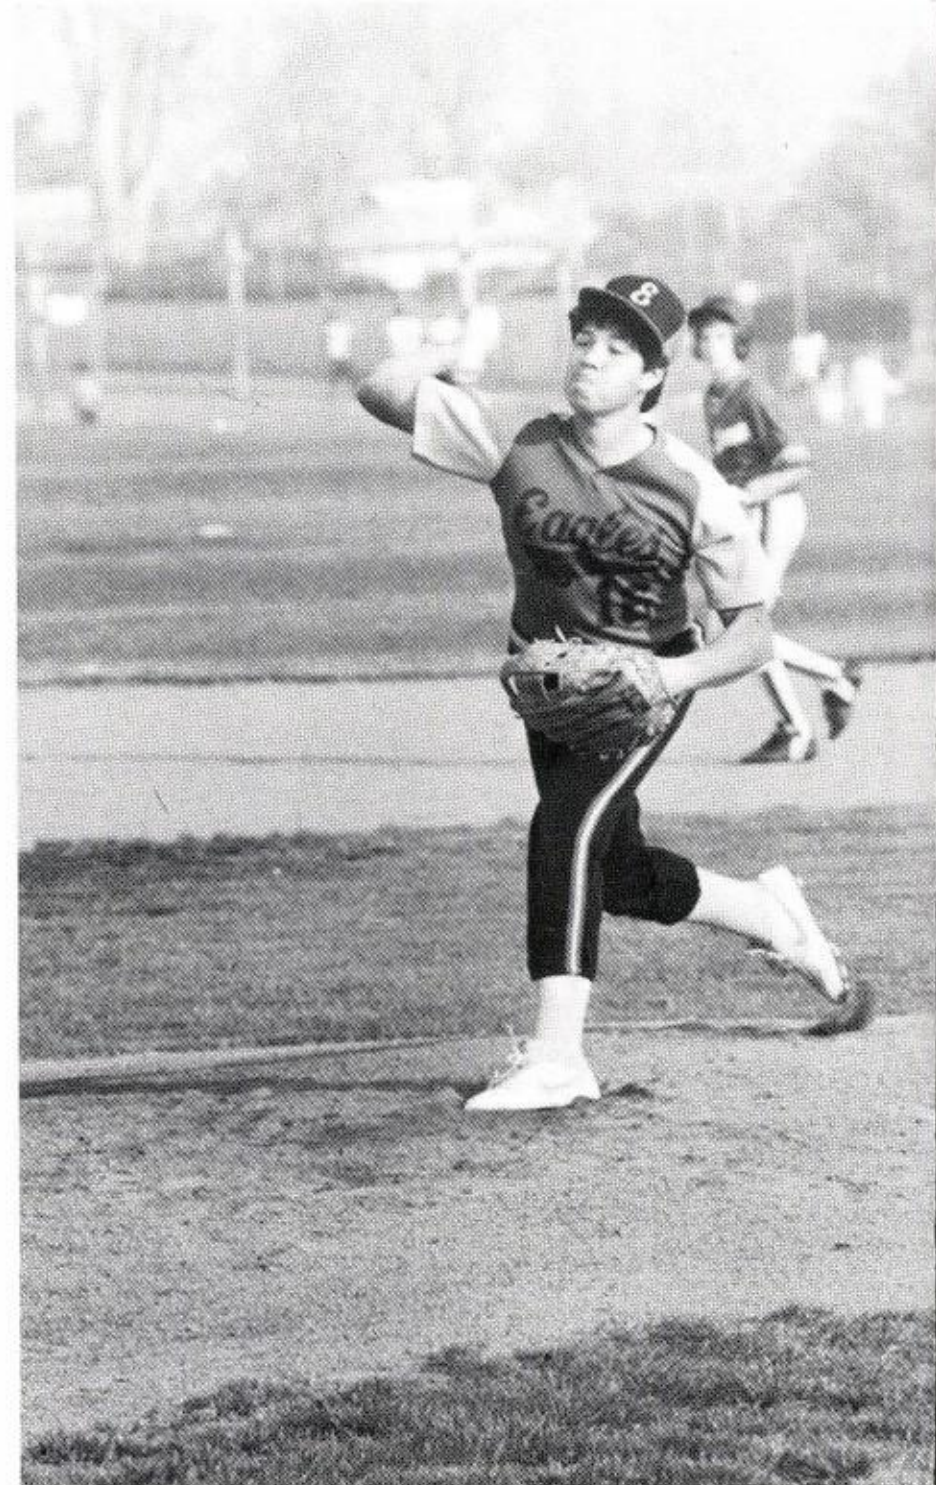

Coach Robles, final opinion of the team was, "They had excellent attitudes toward learning baseball, and they were improving as individuals and as a team."

The junior varsity baseball team's coach was Tom Duncan. The team practiced Monday through Friday 2:30 to 5:00. "The team was good at hitting and had very good speed," according to coach Duncan.

"We had a pretty good team. We had a lot of hitting, but we didn't have enough pitching," commented Brian Finther.

"I believe we have a lot of talent and potential. This season will be long, but I think we should end up in a good place in the league," stated Brian Knight.

Young Team Shows Potential

One of the important spring sports of the year to this group of guys at Etiwanda High School was just around the corner — baseball! Some of the players really looked forward to the season's beginning. As catcher, Greg Bickle, stated, "Baseball was the only sport I participated in." Even with the long hours of practice, many guys tried out for the team.

When asked how the team looked, third baseman, Tony Cichella, commented, "Our team looked extremely good. We had a couple of move-ins that helped our team a great deal." Head Coach, Frank Dicrasto stated, "Great! The team did a great job in our first game by only giving up four earned runs."

The team showed tough competitive action on the field by beating Hesperia 19-7. With the March rains many games were called. But, once the rain stopped the team was ready to take the field once again. Outfielder, Mark Fabian, commented, "We will be a major contender, once we get our pitching going."

Most of the team wanted to pursue a career in baseball after graduation. Most hoped to get involved with the Los Angeles Dodgers organization. No matter where each planned to go, they were pros in the eyes of Etiwanda High School.

Eagles Make the Run

The track team showed dedication and defeated many schools. The Girls' track team had over thirty members and the Boys had over fifty. Both showed strength and depth in distance, hurdles, and long jump. The head coach of the Girls' was Mr. Steve Sullivant, with assistants Ms. Lori Wilder and Mr. Greg Vaniman. The Boys' coach was Mr. Johnson. The boys were the Defending Sweepstakes Champions and continued to beat Bloomington and Banning High Schools. Both teams ran against Chino, Rowland, Norco, and Upland Relays.

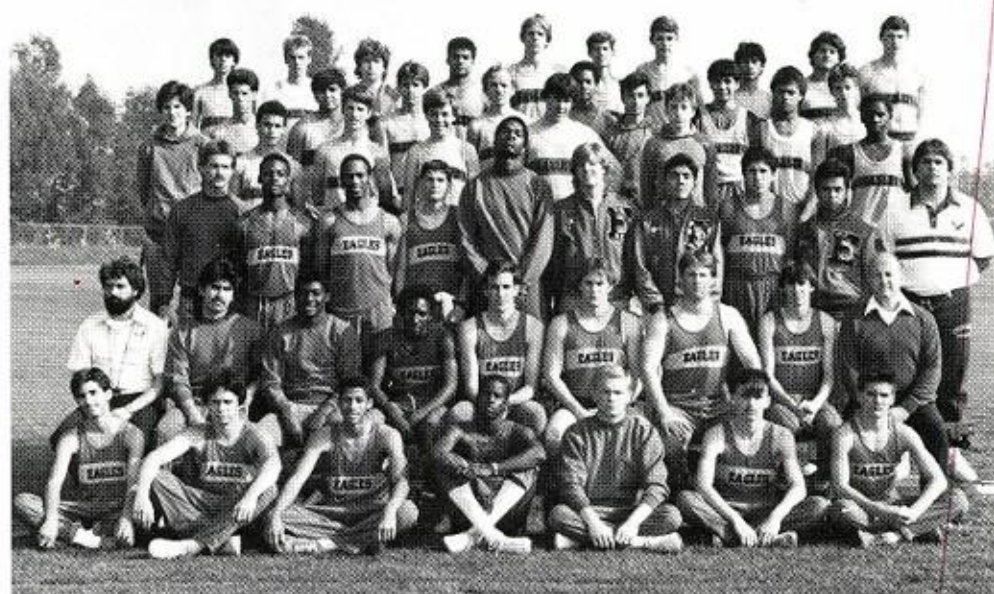

The Girls' Track Members were: Marie Alcorn, Veronica Avila, Lara Berry, Charita Bridges, Treasa Brown, Eileen Burr, Renee Cantwell, Terri Clark, Niki Collins, Tracy Collins, Rene Compton, Dee Dee Duff, Anishia Hawthorne, Marilyn Hele, Tanya Hirsch, Kaneshia Horton, Taji Lewis, Pam Majewski, Jewelle Mattern, Margit McDonald, Arlette Oberg, Eriselda Osorio, Brande Osuna, Traci Penick, Heather Proefrock, Stacey Rodriguez, Mikini Sims, Stephanie Smith, Melissa Swearingen, Kim Tolbert, Catrice White, Katrina Woodul, Victoria Wyatt, Mele Bloomfield, Erica Self, and Kisha Joseph.

In The Deep

Since Etiwanda doesn't have a swimming pool, the swim teams had to travel after school to Alta Loma High or Ontario High, to practice.

The swim teams consisted of students who knew how to swim well and wanted to compete against others. Coach Marcella Thaller and Nan Fowler gave them some good pointers on how to swim the butterfly, freestyle, breast stroke, and the back stroke.

"This was my first year on swim team, and I enjoyed being on it," said freshman Dana Garcia. Junior Cynthia Torres stated, "The team had very high spirits and devotion."

Even though their home meets were also held at Alta Loma or Ontario, their season ended with a splash.

1. At a swim meet, Rachell Tarvin and Marcella Thaller scream with enthusiasm for a teammate.

2. During the event, Arvid Lumanauw competes in the breast stroke.

3. While they wait for their race, James Anderson, Chris Bernier, Tara Fischer, Holly Caldron, Pauline Araneta, Samatha Kabobel, Cynthia Torres, and Jeff Miller watch as Ryan Koffman wins his race.

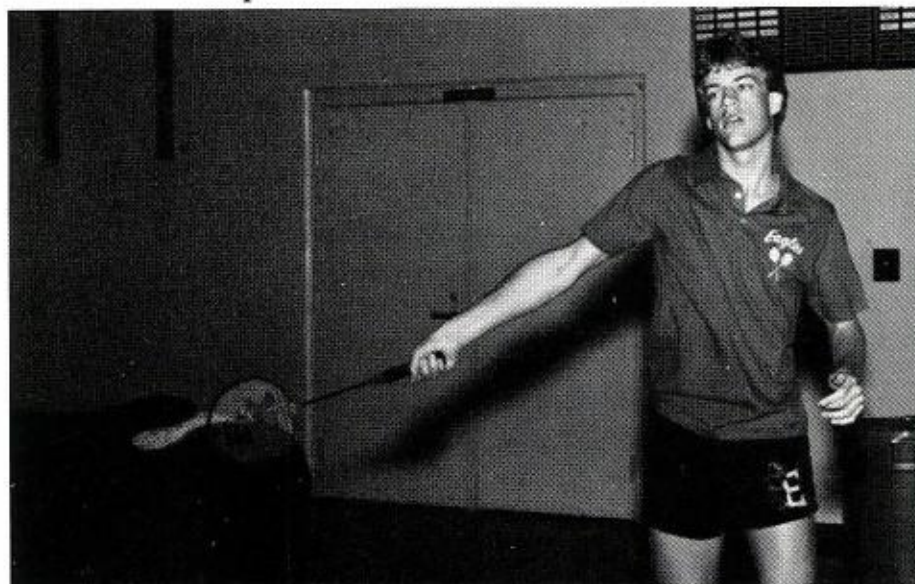

4. As Brian Heavside gets ready for his competition, coach Nan Fowler gives him some pointers.

Eagles Blow Birdies Away

Etiwanda High School's badminton team was stronger than ever. Coach Jess Evans explained, "We didn't lose any of last year's team to graduation. We had everyone returning from a team with a 10 to 5 record that finished second and went to CIF playoffs."

The badminton team met in the gym from 6th period to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Badminton takes the skills of tennis and volleyball to make an exciting game that takes a lot of thinking. The team was a hard act to follow, but they did set an excellent example for future Eagles.

1. Front row: Tracy Bellon, Jeff Olson, Desiree Allen, David Cand, Sheryl Edelsberg, Leah Bender. Middle row: Sherri Scott, Cliff Porter, Cindy Wheller, Lori Maxhiemer, Kiran Dhoka, Marcario Padre, Ann Guitarez, Pattie Blackwell, Tami Cristler. Last row: Coach Jess Evans, Shellie Cooper, Bonnie Fuller, Phil Conger, Chris Stirrat, Martel Willis, Glen Crosby, Jude Tanner, Mike Watson, Eric Dick, David Madison.

2. Jeff Olson shows his fellow teammates his unique style.

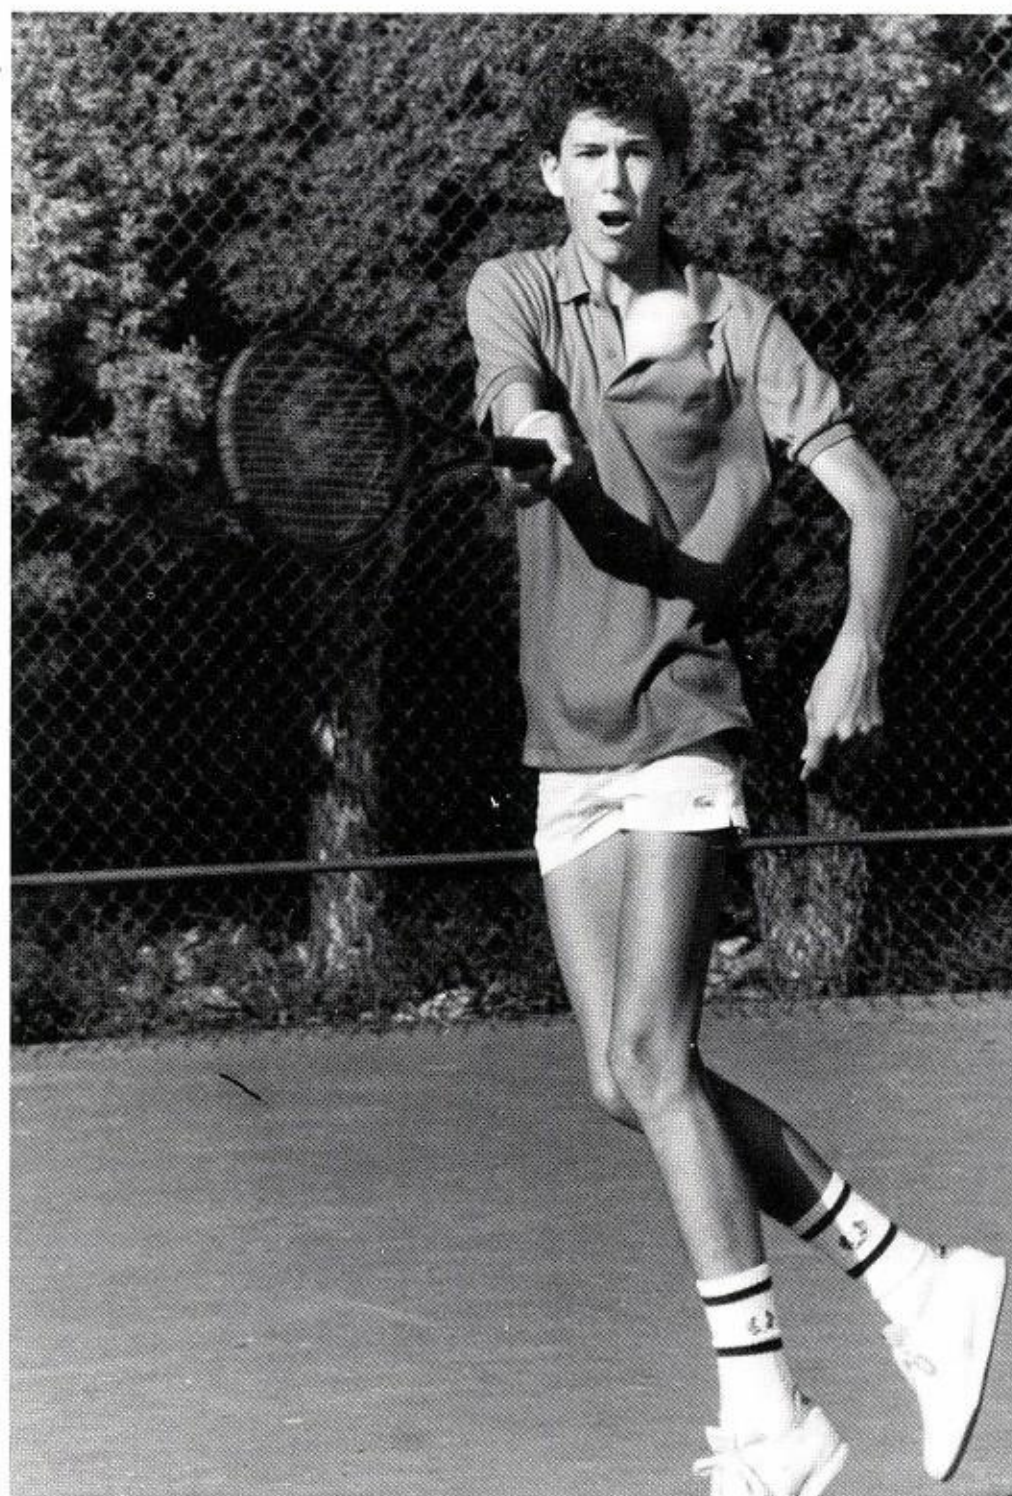

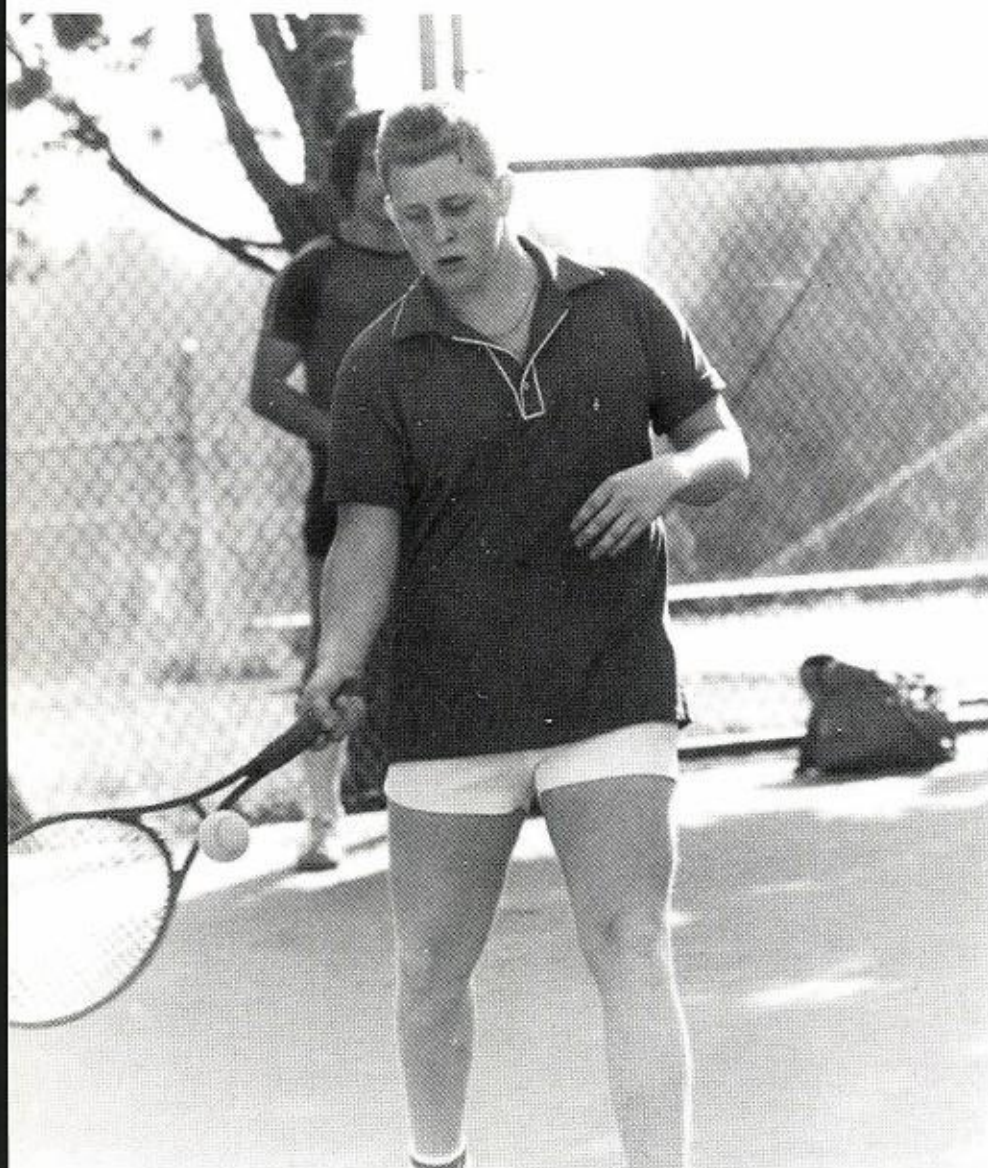

3. Waiting for a serve Glen Crosby, concentrates on his next move.

4. Kiran Dhoka sends a birdie to the unknown.

Order in the Court!

The Boys' tennis team started the season with a big win against Garey. "The team was hardworking and was dedicated to doing their best to help the team," stated Coach Lani Felburg. Coach Felburg helped the team members develop their talents.

The team added a lot of new players. When asked, Anthony Perez commented, "It's a great honor to play for a team that's well coached. "Mrs. Felburg always has time to help us when we need help in our tennis game," stated Winner Dachpian. Everyone hoped for a promising year.

Faculty/Staff

Committed to Excellence

Serving as the first principal of Etiwanda High School has been the greatest experience of my career in education. I know that I speak for the entire staff when I say that it has been an exciting opportunity to be involved in all the things that were necessary to open a new school. Our first goal was to establish a strong instructional program to meet the needs of all of the teaching staff to develop the curriculum and teach the students. Those of you who are familiar with Etiwanda know that the strongest feature of the school has been its excellent teaching staff.

Many changes have occurred since we first opened in the Fall of 1984 at Chaffey High School with 850 students. We have grown in size to over 1,500 students this year. Buildings have been added each year to provide additional facilities. Athletic fields have been established so that we can hold contests on campus. The teaching staff has grown from 32 teachers the first year to 65 this year, and the curriculum has been expanded each year to allow for more courses for our students.

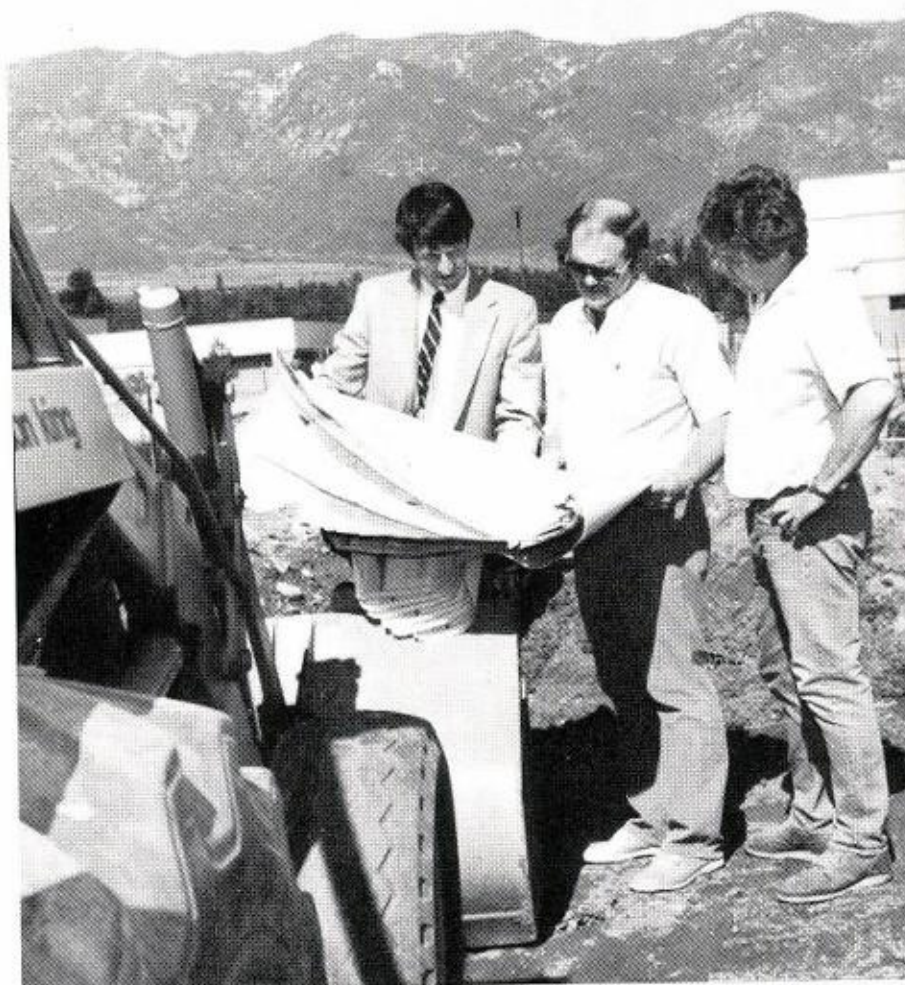

Change has also been obvious in the areas of athletics, performing arts, clubs, and other activities for students. The athletic teams began with young, inexperienced players and have now matured to the point that the teams are competitive in all areas. The marching band and tall flags have enjoyed success each year as they have moved up into higher classes during competitions. The academic decathlon team placed high in the county the first two years before claiming first place this year. It has been a pleasure to watch our students become more and more successful each year in all the areas.

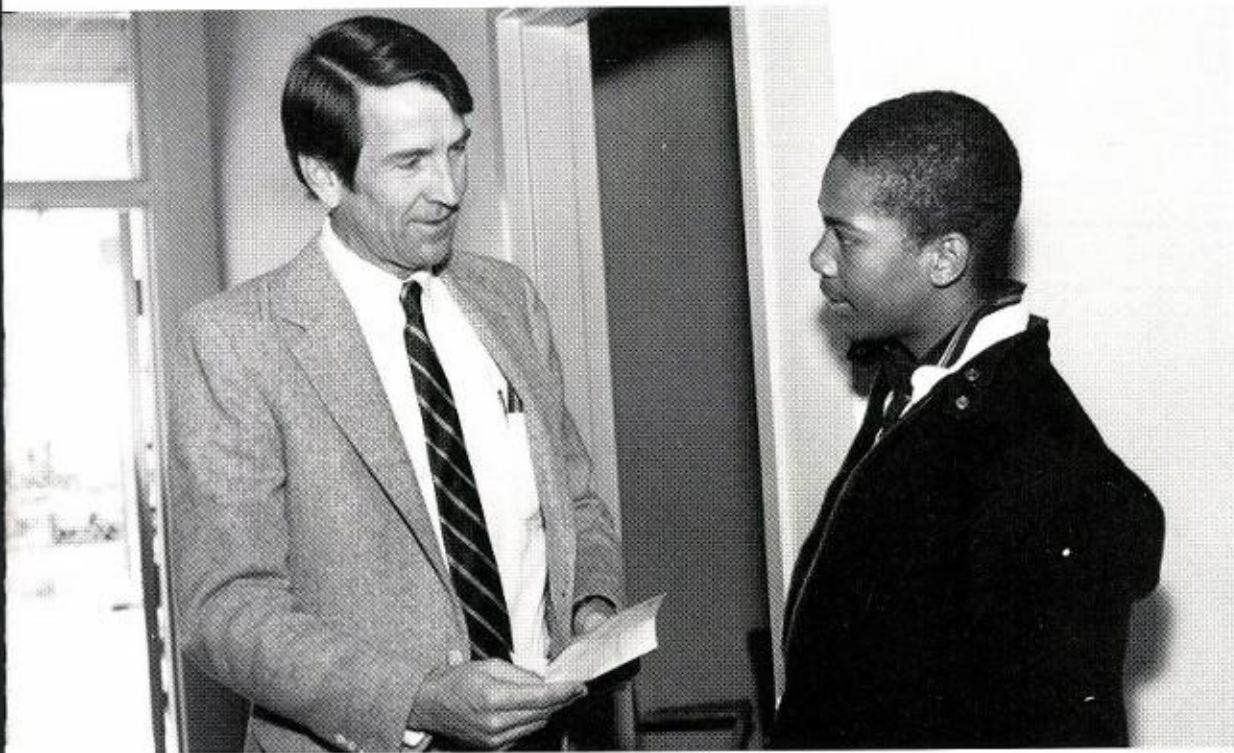

The construction project that started in December will provide ten classrooms, a new location for the library, and a large multi-purpose room for next year. The multi-purpose room will be particularly helpful in providing students a place to eat lunch and a room for a variety of meetings and conferences during the day and in the evening.

As you can see from the above, many changes have taken place over the three years that Etiwanda High School has been in existence. Through all of our growth and changes, we have maintained a strong commitment to excellence. Growth is a certainty for this school. Growth brings change and excitement, along with the possibility of improvement in many areas. Etiwanda has developed the reputation of being an outstanding high school. The growth that we will be experiencing provides a challenge to further enhance what we feel is a quality school. Through all the growth and changes to come, we pledge that we will retain our primary commitment of providing an excellent school for our students.

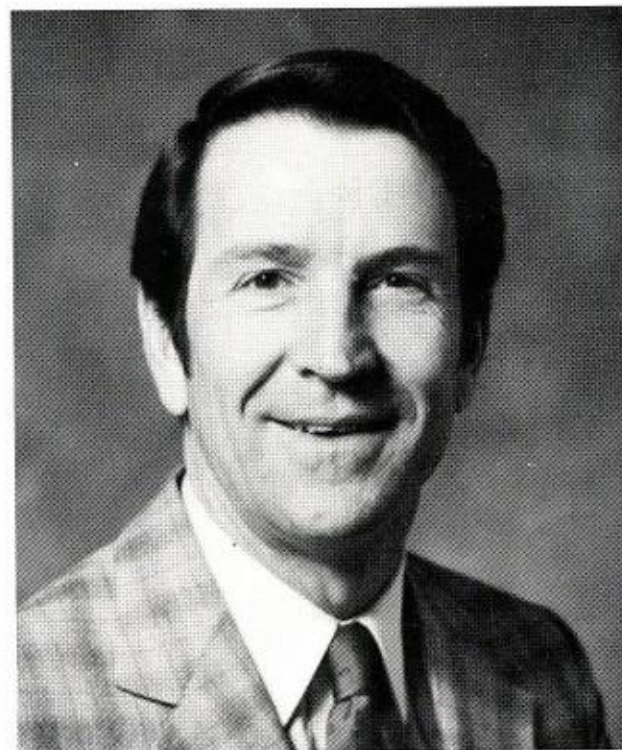

The first three years have been exciting and rewarding as we have worked to develop a quality school. The future holds nothing but the same as we work to make Etiwanda High School a better place for students each year.

Growth Pains

In addition to Principal Culp, there were three important men who contributed their share to keep the academic activities and spirit flowing at Etiwanda. They were, of course, the Assistant Principals, Earl Miller and Remi Tremblay, and Jeff Paulus, Administrative Assistant.

The number of Assistant Principals increased with the growth. According to Tremblay the growth was great and exciting, but was disruptive and discouraging at times.

Jeff Paulus became an administrative assistant and was responsible for new areas arising with the growth of EHS. He was involved with field trips, alternative study programs, scholarships, and he was still Math Department Chairman.

1. Often you can see Mr. Miller, out on campus.
2. Filing the students in alphabetical order can be a challenging job as Mrs. Cordero has found out.
3. After going through the slips for the bulletin, Mrs. Andrews now must type them up.
4. Making activity decision is very hard as Mr. Tremblay examines the paper work.
5. Mr. Paulus found out that his new job is not all that easy.

More Than One Job

Mrs. Patterson, Government teacher for the Seniors and Social Studies Chairperson at Etiwanda High School applied for a mentor teacher position and was selected for the job. Mrs. Patterson commented: "I was very honored to have been selected a mentor for the Chaffey district, especially so because I was selected by my fellow colleagues. As a mentor, I've enjoyed sharing my love for teaching with others new to the profession."

Mrs. Patterson also took part in writing the Government questions for the Seniors CAP test for next year.

She stated: "Writing questions for the CAP test has been a real challenge, I have acquired appreciation for the importance of curriculum and for the difficulty of constructing appropriate test questions. Sharing ideas with teachers throughout the state has been a genuine pleasure."

Fire, Fire!!

When we started out in September little did we all know that we would all (staff and students) have to brown bag it for a week. The cafeteria had an accident when a fire broke out during the first week of November 1985. They had to repaint and it took approximately two weeks to clean up smoke debris. Fortunately, the fire was contained only to the cafeteria and not to the student store or other classrooms.

Crossing The Bar

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

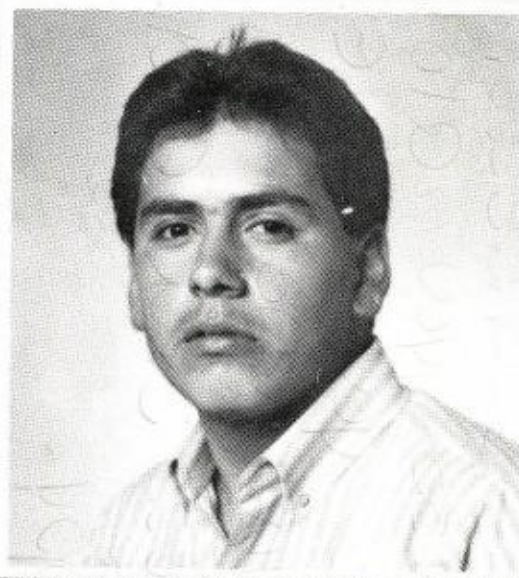

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of Time and Place

The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

DA HIGH SCH

"Home of the Eagles"

Finally!

Many changes have hit E.H.S. over the past three years, with the doubling of the student and staff population and new buildings. Thus, Etiwanda has become better by the day. The biggest physical change, and the latest, has been the construction of the new building. This building which provided ten new classrooms and a large multipurpose room, was the most concrete symbol of the changes which took place. Etiwanda has certainly been affected by the "Winds of Change."

Our Thanks . . .

Over the years there have been many people who have spent their time and effort to help this yearbook be a success.

This page is dedicated to them.

A.S.B.: without them there wouldn't be a yearbook. They have financed us and arranged activities according to our deadlines.

Mr. Culp: for his understanding and cooperation.

Glen Anderson: without him we wouldn't have had nearly as many pictures taken the way we wanted them.

Jane Kasel: whose help and knowledge helped make this book the best ever.

Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Andrews: they have run letters and announcements off when we desperately needed them.

Mrs. Malone: for helping us find the names of people when no one else knew who they were.

Woodshop: for making our beautiful cabinet. We were finally able to get organized.

All of the parents: who have helped with the typing, drawing of layouts, writing captions and copy, and everything else that goes into making a book.

And finally to my mother, Sharon Land: who has given me the support, love, and the help that was needed to be an editor of this staff for three years.

To all of you, and even to those who have taken time out of their schedule to answer questions, we, the Aquila Staff, thank you.

CONGRATULATIONS MICHELLE,

And the class of '86. To achieve all that is possible, we must attempt the impossible. To be as much as we can be, we must dream of being more. We love you! Dad, Mom, Karen, and Nikki.

CONGRATULATIONS MIKE,

You made it!! Yeah — we are proud of you. Love, Mom, Dad, and Kathleen.

SENIORS "86,"

"And even if we are occupied with important things, even if we attain honor or fall into misfortune — still let us remember how good it was once here, when we were all together, united by a good kind feeling which made us . . . better perhaps than we are." "Congratulations, Varmits." Love, Munz.

WAY TO GO TRACY!

Always keep your good thinking and nice thoughts. You have made my last two years easier. Thanks, Wanda.

WAY TO GO LISA!

We're proud to have you for our kid. You make parenthood worthwhile. Love, Mom and Dad.

DEAR SCOTT Bremmer

Although you are not graduating from California but from Georgia, we are very proud of your accomplishments at Etiwanda. Long Live the EHS-MER and your special contributions to it! Congratulations! Mom, Dad, and Tina.

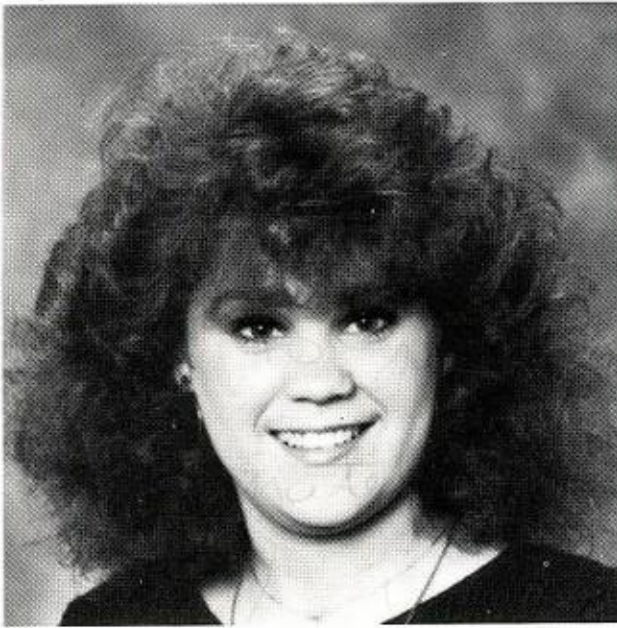

TO MY ONLY SON, GEORGE,

There are not enough words that can express my love for you. You made me so proud even though there were times we thought you might not quite make it. But deep in my heart I knew you would. I'm proud of you and I love you very much. Congratulations, Son. Love, Mom and Kendra.

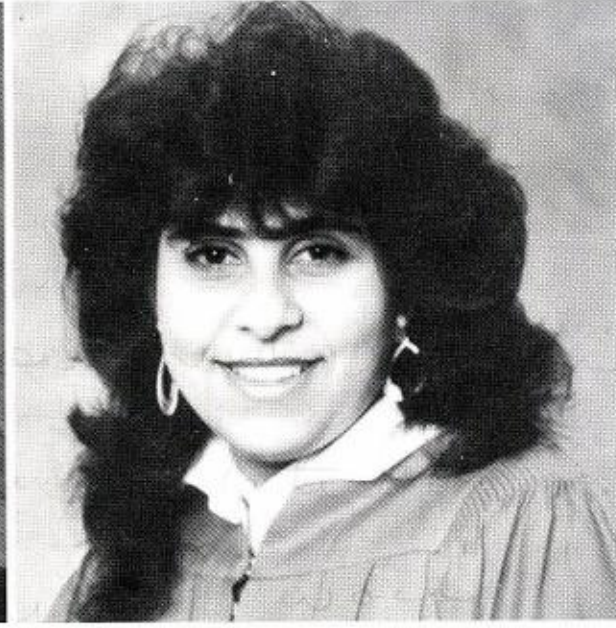

CONGRATULATIONS MONICA,

We are very proud of you and we love you very much. Love, Mom, Dad, Greg and Liza.

 I'm glad that you are going to stay.
 This has been an excellent year.

Lissa,

You sure spell your name funny. Anyway, uh, I don't even know what to ~~to~~ ^{to} you. You've been a ^{cute?} friend and all that kind of stuff there but besides my slightly forward manner we've gotten along pretty well. I'm just about finished here so I'll be able to finish without getting too perverted. However, I'd still like to give you a physical y'know. Sorry, couldn't stop myself. Love always,

Lisa,

You have been really nice to me ever since I've known you. You are a really great person and have a great personality. Love ya,

Lissa,

Will thanko for being my friend. I've ~~been~~ really enjoyed being your friend sorry if I've been a bitch.

Usually people ignore
me. Will have a great summer. I don't plan to.
Kinda boring
up there
